Invaders Continue to Press Serbs Back at Nearly All Points—Russians Take Offensive at New Point—Italians Are Making Progress—Germans Subs in Mediterranean Sea Shipped Overland Heavy Fighting in West—Italians Demanding Drastic Reprisals for Raid—Kitchener Said to Carry Ultimatum to Greece.

By Associated Press.

London, November 15.—An official statement from Berlin reported the capture of 8,500 Serbians and asserts that Bulgarian forces took 7,000 of these, together with six cannon.

The Serbians continue to be driven back along the line, it is announced.

Berlin also claims a somewhat decided success for German arms along the Stry river, where it is claimed the entire western bank of the river has been cleared of Russians.

The Russians appear to have begun an offensive movement in a new region, the German war office reporting Russian attacks east of Vilna, which were repulsed. The latest official reports by the Italian general staff claims progress for the Italians on the Isonzo front.

An Austrian general is quoted in a Berlin dispatch as saying that the Italian offensive has not even dented the Austrian line in the Isonzo region.

A Saloniki report says German submarines are using the Bulgarian harbor of Vardar as a base of operations.

Rome, November 15.—The air raid upon Verona, which resulted in the death of 30 civilians and the wounding of 49 others, has intensified the bitterness felt in Italy against Austria.

One newspaper demands prompt reprisals, suggesting that all Germans in Italy be interned in concentration camps, that Austro-German property be confiscated and that 35,000 Austrian prisoners be held as hostages.

Travelers arriving at Milan from Verona say the enemy aviators were favored by foggy weather and approached close to the city before they were noticed.

A bomb, dropped in a public square claimed women as its victims for the most part.

London, November 15.—The reported mission of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener to King Constantine of Greece has evoked considerable comment in the London newspapers.

They almost unanimously agree that Great Britain has taken the best possible means of bringing Greece to a definite decision.

The Pall Mall Gazette, voicing what appears to be the general view says:

"It seems probable that Earl Kitchener has gone armed with full powers to bring this tortuous ruler (referring to King Constantine) face to face with distinct alternative."

Rome, November 15.—Rome newspapers say that the Austrian submarines which are now so active in the Mediterranean were shipped in pieces from Kiel, Germany, to Trieste, accompanied by German mechanics and naval officers.

From Trieste, they were taken to the Austrian naval arsenal at Pola, where they were assembled.

NO MALICE IS HARBORED BY THE PRESIDENT

By Associated Press.

Washington, November 15.—President Wilson today instructed Postmaster General Burleson to reinstate George Burkitt, removed as assistant postmaster at Winnetka, Ill., because he criticized the president for his engagement to be married.

The president qualified his instructions by telling the postmaster general Burkitt should be reinstated to his position if there were no other charges against him.

It was said unofficially that the president entirely disapproved of discharging Burkitt for making the remark accredited to him.

In published correspondence between Burkitt and the postmaster of Winnetka, it was stated that Burkitt had been given demerits for other things than the remarks about the president's engagement.

That, Burkitt denied. White House officials were annoyed by the publicity given to the case, and it was expected that the postmaster general would act immediately on the president's instruction.

PAGE UNABLE TO GET FACTS

By Associated Press.

Washington, November 15.—Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page at Rome cables that his conferences at the Italian foreign office thus far have failed to develop the details or facts concerning the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona.

The Italian government, according to Mr. Page, is having considerable difficulty establishing just what occurred when the vessel went down.

Secretary Lansing has been waiting to learn whether it was a German or Austrian submarine which destroyed the Ancona, and therefore has not instructed either Ambassador Gerard or Ambassador Penfield to call at the Berlin and Vienna foreign offices, respectively to ask for information.

NO HOPE FOR EITHER VICTIM

By Associated Press.

Findlay, O., November 15.—Physicians today held out no hope for the recovery of either Norris H. Powell, 44, nor Miss Ada Warner, 40, his sweetheart who Saturday night shot him and then cut her own throat, when he refused to marry her after she entered his home near midnight and demanded at the point of a gun, that he take her for his wife.

Miss Warner is at the home of her parents, 12 stitches having closed the wound in her neck which she inflicted with a razor.

She is being kept under opiates for she says she will tear the stitches from the wounds at her first opportunity, in her desperation to die.

NOTED HORSEMAN DIES IN NEWARK

By Associated Press.

NEGRO EDUCATOR'S FUNERAL NOV. 17

By Associated Press.

Tuskegee, Alabama, November 15.—Funeral arrangements were being completed today for Booker T. Washington, the noted negro educator and founder of Tuskegee Institute, who died here yesterday, of a nervous breakdown.

Funeral services will be held at the institute Wednesday morning, followed by interment in the institute grounds. The body will lie in state all day tomorrow.

Thousands of Alabamians, in addition to prominent educators and others from various parts of the country, are expected to attend the funeral.

A special train will be run from Montgomery to bring state officials and others.

ADRIATIC IS SUNK?

By Associated Press.

New York, November 15.—There was a report this morning in maritime circles that the steamship Adriatic had been sunk, but the report did not state whether the steamship was the big passenger ship of the White Star Line or was the British steamship Adriatic, which left Kymassi, Greece, on October 13 for Philadelphia and passed Tarifa, Spain, October 19.

The White Star Line Adriatic arrived in Liverpool on November 11 and was not scheduled to leave for New York until November 24.

Later a report became current that it was the Adriatic of the White Star Line that was in trouble.

The other steamship Adriatic, bound for Philadelphia, should be about mid-Atlantic today.

Officials of the White Star Line did not credit the report.

TAKE THE DARDANELLES AT ALL COSTS, SAYS CHURCHILL

By Associated Press.

London, November 15.—(Bulletin)—In his speech in the House of Commons today, Winston Spencer Churchill declared that if any operations in the history of the world were worth carrying through with sustained fury and utter disregard of life, the operations at the Dardanelles were worth it.

Mr. Churchill, who resigned last week as chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, said also that the project of sending an army to the relief of Antwerp originated with Field Marshal Kitchener and the French government.

Mr. Churchill made this statement in outlining the reason for his resignation from the cabinet and explaining his administration of the Admiralty, of which he formerly was the first lord.

ALLEGED GERMAN CONSPIRATOR MAKES CONFESSION OF GUILT

By Associated Press.

New York, November 15.—Robert Fay, one of the six men now under indictment charged with attempting to place bombs on munitions ships sailing for England and France, today made a long statement to United States Attorney Marshall.

The statement is understood to be in the nature of a confession and also to furnish details of the alleged German plot to destroy or damage munitions shipped from this country to the allies.

A prominent official connected with the investigation said a quasi-agreement had been made that Fay would plead guilty when brought to trial with the five others, on conspiracy charges.

If Fay goes before the federal grand jury, it is considered certain that he will not be asked to waive immunity.

New York, November 15.—Robert Fay, the chief figure in the alleged German conspiracy to plant bombs

on steamships carrying munitions to the allies from this port, and for which six men have been indicted, was taken before United States Attorney H. Snowden Marshall today.

Fay talked to William J. Flynn, chief of the secret service, for some time yesterday and was reported to have materially amplified the alleged confession he made to authorities when arrested.

It was stated that Fay had offered to turn state's evidence when the five co-conspirators are placed on trial.

Although no offer of immunity has yet been made to Fay in return for his testimony, it was believed that if he became a government witness he would be granted immunity and taken before the federal grand jury.

The government's attorneys plan to have new indictments against Fay and the other five filed, as a result of the announcement by counsel for the defense that the validity of the present indictments would be contested.

ASK REMOVAL OF ANDERS FROM BOARD

A suit to test the validity of the appointment of Chas. Anders to the County Board of School Examiners by the County Board of Education, has been filed in Common Pleas court by Prosecutor Tom S. Maddox, the style of the suit being "The State of Ohio on the relation of Tom S. Maddox, Prosecutor of Fayette County, against Chas. L. Anders."

The suit is said to be of a friendly character, and the petition states that the defendant was chosen to the board of County School Examiners on the 31st day of August, 1915, under the pretense that the defendant was a District Superintendent and could hold the office. He was named for a term of two years.

The Court is asked to remove the defendant on the grounds that he is not qualified to hold the office to which he was appointed by a majority of the members of the county board of education.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN SALEM

The sad news that Mr. Tom Larrimer had died Saturday afternoon at his home in Salem, O., reached this city Saturday evening, bringing sorrow to a large circle of friends, as well as to his mother, two sisters and other relatives.

Mr. Larrimer has been ill for several months, suffering from an acute form of anaemia, and his condition has been critical for several weeks. But thirty six years of age, having a wife and three sons, the oldest but thirteen years, death's call seems most untimely.

Mr. Larrimer was formerly connected with the Ohio State Telephone in this city, moving to Salem to take the position of assistant manager with the same company. Always making friends easily, he was specially popular in the Masonic lodge, of which he was an active member. Mr. Larrimer's wife was the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Nye Gregg.

Short funeral services will be held at the home in Salem Monday afternoon, the family leaving with all that is mortal of the husband and father on the evening train for this city. They will arrive Tuesday morning on the five o'clock train and go at once to the home of the deceased's mother, Mrs. Sarah Larrimer, on Washington Avenue, where services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, in charge of the Masonic lodge. Burial in Washington cemetery.

LAI 343 EGGS IN 343 DAYS.

Pennsylvania Bird to Lady Eglantine Vouched For by Owner.

Carlisle, Pa.—With his pet Minorca hen, Queen Elizabeth, W. S. Geremeyer claims to have beaten the world's egg laying record recently established by Lady Eglantine at Delaware college. Queen Elizabeth, he asserts, laid 343 eggs in 343 consecutive days. The best Lady Eglantine did is put at 314 eggs in 365 days. Geremeyer and his wife certify to the correctness of this count. Queen Elizabeth is said to have begun laying on Nov. 4, 1914, and stopped on Oct. 13, 1915, laying an egg a day during that time. Two other fowls of the same brood are said to have laid 328 eggs in the same time.

MAKES 'EM YOUNG AGAIN.

Professor of Zoology in Chicago University Rejuvenates Animals.

Chicago.—The result of fifteen years' study of the evolutions of life are contained in "Senescence and Rejuvenescence," a 500 page volume from the pen of Charles Manning Child, associate professor of zoology in the University of Chicago.

"Certain experimental methods have made it possible not only to follow the physiological changes in some of the lower animals, but to learn something of their nature," Professor Child writes. "These animals grow old, as do men, but they are also capable of growing young. The process of aging can be retarded or inhibited experimentally and old animals brought back to a condition of youth and made to pass through the life cycle again and again."

HAND BADLY MANGLED WHEN SHOT GUN IS DISCHARGED

Samuel Allen, well known resident of Milledgeville, nearly lost his life while out hunting recently when a shot gun which he carried was accidentally discharged and part of his right hand was carried away and a number of the shot penetrated his neck and face, causing him great suffering and leaving his hand so that it will be permanently crippled.

Mr. Allen was in company with Dr. Adams, of Milledgeville, and other citizens of the same place, and the men were hunting on a farm a few miles west of Plymouth.

Mr. Allen's right hand was crippled as the result of being struck with an axe when he was a mere lad and he was in the act of climbing upon a stump and drawing the gun up by the muzzle when his hand slipped from the barrel of the gun and the weapon in falling, was discharged.

The charge caught him between the thumb and the index finger of his hand, carrying away the flesh and part of the bone, hurling particles of the bone into his hat and face, and leaving a ragged wound between the thumb and finger which could not be closed, so that the finger and thumb were pulled together and dressed in that position in order that the wound might be placed in condition to heal.

The injured man was given immediate attention by Dr. Adams, and Dr. Howell of this city was later called and assisted in dressing the ugly wound. The shot imbedded in Mr. Allen's neck and face could not be located, and he was still suffering greatly from the pain when last heard from.

So far as known this is the first serious hunting accident occurring in Fayette county this season.

While Mr. Chaffin is opposed by a prominent Odd Fellow who has previously been up two or three times for the office of Grand Warden, it is believed that his position at the head of the Imperial Degree Staff and his wide acquaintance among Ohio Odd Fellows generally, places him in a position where he has a splendid chance of winning the contest.

The election of Grand Lodge officers takes place the first meeting night in December, and Mr. Chaffin's friends throughout the state are boosting his candidacy.

I suffered from a general nervous breakdown and would have such weak, dizzy spells—I would have to go to bed for a day at a time. When visiting friends in Bradford, O., and old doctor recommended that I try Vinol. That very day I bought a bottle and continued to take it regularly. It has done me a world of good, built me up so I feel stronger in every way, and have gone back to work again, and I want to recommend Vinol to any old comrade or aged person who needs strength for it is a grand medicine." W. H. Bowers, Steubenville, Ohio.

The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz: the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers, without oil, peptonate of iron, beef peptone and a mild tonic wine.

We ask every aged person in Washington Court House to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to create strength. Blackmer & Tanquary, druggists, Washington C. H., O. advt.

The New 'Phone Tomorrow

Tonight during the "wee small hours," when good people are supposed to be in such close relationship with Morpheus that all worldly activities are forgotten, the local telephone company will make the shift from the old and long unsatisfactory bell ring wait on exchange service system to the new convenient and immediate result producing automatic service.

The officials and employees of the local company have been working like Trojans for months installing the new system, all the time continuing the old with the least annoyance possible to subscribers.

The work of the local phone managers and employees has been exceedingly annoying and the expense incident to the change very heavy.

There has been, as a matter of course, some considerable derangement of the service but when the magnitude of the work in hand has been appreciated the annoyances to 'phone users has been inconsiderable in comparison.

The public generally has realized the extent of the work being done and the difficulties encountered and has been patient. The managers and employees have also been patient and obliging under the most trying circumstances. It was rare indeed for the, at times, almost distracted operators to lose their patience with a 'phone user and then only when some impatient, high strung individual forgot that the annoyance he endured once a day was constant with those he complained about. The company has been doing its best to better conditions. Hemmed in with regulatory laws, mergers and what not it has been delayed in its endeavors longer than it desired.

Finally, however, we are to emerge into an era of better 'phone service in Washington. It may take a few days for the new machine to get limbered up in the joints but not long until everything is working smoothly and our rosy dreams of happiness will have come true.

Equal Suffragists "Go West."

After their decisive defeat in the eastern states as a result of the last elections, the advocates of woman-suffrage have concluded to abandon, for the present, any attempt to again submit the proposal to a popular vote in the eastern states.

For a time the woman suffrage leaders have determined to confine their efforts for recognition at the polls to the states farther west where the prospect of success is much brighter.

Twelve states, all of them save one—Illinois—west of the Mississippi river have, by a vote of the people conferred either wholly or partially, upon women the right to vote since 1896. Eleven of the states—all of them save Washington—have fallen in line with the new idea within the last half dozen years.

The voters of nine states, all of them east of the big river which divides the east from the west have, within the last four years, refused to allow women the right to vote and one of those states, Ohio, has twice registered its refusal to adopt equal suffrage.

In 1912 the voters of the Buckeye state by a majority of over eighty-seven thousand refused the constitutional amendment submitted by the equal suffragists and again in 1914 by a majority of over one hundred and eighty-seven thousand.

While there is nothing encouraging in the election results in the eastern states, while in fact the election totals indicate that the equal suffrage advocates are losing ground, yet there is encouragement for them to be found that in the west and the south reforms in governmental affairs first take root and from that base they grow and spread.

The eastern states are not quick to adopt radical changes preferring in matters governmental as well as in matters of business, to adhere to the ultra conservative course leaving the western states the sometimes doubtful privilege of "trying out" the new ideas. After adoption and test by the western and southern states, if the practical operations prove equal to the theory, the eastern states will adopt the new idea, but not until then.

The equal suffrage advocates, it is believed, have shown good judgment in confining their activities to a demonstration of the practical worth of their idea, leaving the hostile states severely alone until they have demonstrations of practical good accomplished, through the adoption of their ideas, with which to reinforce their claim of right to recognition.

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

Slack up, brother, what's your hurry,
That so recklessly you scurry
With your elbows jabbing sideways
and your glance fixed straight ahead?
Is a minute's time so precious
That you needs must be ungracious
And go tramping on your fellow like
a hungry quadruped?

Can't you spare a nod of greeting,
Pass the time of day on meeting?
Swap a joke or laugh a little when
a neighbor drifts along?
Is the dollar so enticing,
Is "success" so all-sufficing,
That you can't devote a second to a
brother in the throng?

Do you know your destination?
It's a quiet little station
Where ambition never troubles and
the dollar jingles not,
Where there is no bootless striving,
Sordid scheming or contriving,
And the richest man's possession is
a little grassy plot.

Why be overkeen for speeding
On a trail so surely leading
To that lonely little village where we
all must come at last?
Slack up, brother, what's your hurry,
That so recklessly you scurry?
You may head a slow procession ere
another year is past.

Test For Hydrochloric Acid.

A curious mishap gave us a very delicate test for hydrochloric acid in the atmosphere. In a north of England locality many houses have curtains of the cream color produced by metanil yellow, popularly known as "dolly" cream dye and to science as "the sodium salt of meta-amido-benzene sulphonic acid-azo-diphenyl-amine." Some of these cream colored curtains suddenly changed to heliotrope. Investigation showed that an accidental escape of hydrochloric acid from a neighboring alkali plant had discolored the curtains, and the dye became a most useful test.—London Globe.

Luke McLuke Says

It takes a course in the school of experience to show a man how much he does not know.

The man who is so busy making money that he hasn't time to make friends doesn't get much fun out of life.

Maybe a woman likes to call her husband "dear" in public because she knows it makes him feel cheap.

A woman's idea of a gossip is a dame who tells a secret before the woman has a chance to tell it herself.

Make up a list of the men to whom you owe money and you will have a list of the men with the best memories in the world.

Father is always bragging what a great scholar he was when he went to school and how much harder the lessons were when he was a boy than they are today. And then one of the children who is in the fourth grade will ask father about ten questions relating to his studies, and father will say, "Run away and don't bother me—can't you see I'm busy?" because father can't answer one of the questions.

When a woman hasn't anything else to do she can have a fine time scaring up a lot of troubles that will never happen.

This is a cold, calculating, practical world. A dollar's worth of pennies in your pocket will get you more than a billion dollars' worth of great ancestors on your family tree.

The old order changeth. It is no longer necessary to wear your hair down to your shoulders to be considered a genius.

FATE OF THE RESOLUTE.

British Economy and the End of Franklin's Exploring Ship.

The story of how the brave little exploring ship the Resolute was found by an American vessel in Davis strait after a thousand mile cruise from Melville Island without a soul on board is easily the most captivating in the history of arctic exploration. The Resolute, locked in the ice, was abandoned on May 15, 1854, sorely against the will of her captain by advice of the leader of the Belcher-Franklin expedition. The reappearance of the vessel on Sept. 17 caused a great sensation, and the United States brought the vessel with great ceremony to Cowes in order to present it to the queen of England.

The queen, the prince consort and others of the royal family then at Osborne House inspected the vessel, which had been carefully repaired and all the original furniture retained in position down to the smallest trinkets. The American skipper traced before her majesty the thousand mile course of the vessel and expressed his belief that Sir John Franklin was still alive, living among the Eskimos.

After many banquets the actual transfer of the vessel took place on Dec. 30, 1856, when the American flag was replaced by the British. And now comes the tragedy. The admiral had no sooner come into the possession of the vessel than it proceeded to break it up on the good old principle of public economy!—London Chronicle.

A TRAP FOR MARINERS.

Salmadina Bank, Off Colombia's Coast, Is a Perilous Shoal.

One of the most dangerous places for navigation is the Salmadina bank, which lies just outside the harbor of Cartagena, Colombia. Many vessels have come to grief on the treacherous sands of Salmadina in the past, and because of the impossibility of keeping buoys on it the shoal is a constant menace to ships plying those waters.

This dangerous bank is about four miles long and two miles wide. There is scarcely more than twelve feet of water over it at any time. The sea is usually smooth in that part of the Caribbean, and unless there is ground swell enough to cause waves to break on the reef there is nothing to warn the navigator that he is approaching this shallow spot. He may have his head going and get plenty of water one minute and be bang up on the shoal the next.

The lighthouse people will probably never be able to put buoys on Salmadina that will stay there. They are invariably carried away in the terrific hurricanes that periodically sweep these waters. So it seems as if Salmadina was a bad spot put there for the permanent worryment of shipmasters. —New York Sun.

HAND BADLY MANGLED WHEN SHOT GUN IS DISCHARGED

Samuel Allen, well known resident of Milledgeville, nearly lost his life while out hunting recently when a shot gun which he carried was accidentally discharged and part of his right hand was carried away and a number of the shot penetrated his neck and face, causing him great suffering and leaving his hand so that it will be permanently crippled.

Mr. Allen was in company with Dr. Adams, of Milledgeville, and other citizens of the same place, and the men were hunting on a farm a few miles west of Plymouth.

Mr. Allen's right hand was crippled as the result of being struck with an axe when he was a mere lad and he was in the act of climbing upon a stump and drawing the gun up by the muzzle when his hand slipped from the barrel of the gun and the weapon in falling, was discharged.

The charge caught him between the thumb and the index finger of his hand, carrying away the flesh and part of the bone, hurling particles of the bone into his hat and face, and leaving a ragged wound between the thumb and finger which could not be closed, so that the finger and thumb were pulled together and dressed in that position in order that the wound might be placed in condition to heal.

The injured man was given immediate attention by Dr. Adams, and Dr. Howell of this city was later called and assisted in dressing the ugly wound. The shot imbedded in Mr. Allen's neck and face could not be located, and he was still suffering greatly from the pain when last heard from.

So far as known this is the first serious hunting accident occurring in Fayette county this season.

office obtainable in the Ohio Lodge of Odd Fellows.

While Mr. Chaffin is opposed by a prominent Odd Fellow who has previously been up two or three times for the office of Grand Warden, it is believed that his position at the head of the Imperial Degree Staff and his wide acquaintance among Ohio Odd Fellows generally, places him in a position where he has a splendid chance of winning the contest.

The election of Grand Lodge officers takes place the first meeting night in December, and Mr. Chaffin's friends throughout the state are boosting his candidacy.

Symbolism in Japan.

When a child is born in Japan the parents put up outside the house the sign of a fish or a doll, according as it is a boy or a girl. The fish represents a being who has to swim against the stream and make his way in the world. The doll stands for one who is there to be petted and made much of.

Tells How to Retard the Infirmities of Old Age.

"I am 77 years old, and for 35 years have worked on the P. C. & St. L. R. R. Also a Civil War Veteran. I suffered from a general nervous breakdown and would have such weak, dizzy spells I would have to go to bed for a day at a time. When visiting friends in Bradford, O., and old doctor recommended that I try Vinol. That very day I bought a bottle and continued to take it regularly. It has done me a world of good, built me up so I feel stronger in every way, and have gone back to work again, and I want to recommend Vinol to any old comrade or aged person who needs strength for it is a grand medicine." W. H. Bowers, Steubenville, Ohio.

The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz: the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers, without oil, peptonate of iron, beef peptonate and a mild tonic wine.

We ask every aged person in Washington Court House to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to create strength. Blackmer & Tanquary, druggists, Washington C. H., O. advt.

The New 'Phone Tomorrow

Tonight during the "wee small hours," when good people are supposed to be in such close relationship with Morpheus that all worldly activities are forgotten, the local telephone company will make the shift from the old and long unsatisfactory bell ring wait on exchange service system to the new convenient and immediate result producing automatic service.

The officials and employees of the local company have been working like Trojans for months installing the new system, all the time continuing the old with the least annoyance possible to subscribers.

The work of the local phone managers and employees has been exceedingly annoying and the expense incident to the change very heavy.

There has been, as a matter of course, some considerable derangement of the service but when the magnitude of the work in hand has been appreciated the annoyances to 'phone users has been inconsiderable in comparison.

The public generally has realized the extent of the work being done and the difficulties encountered and has been patient. The managers and employees have also been patient and obliging under the most trying circumstances. It was rare indeed for the, at times, almost distracted operators to lose their patience with a 'phone user and then only when some impatient, high strung individual forgot that the annoyance he endured once a day was constant with those he complained about. The company has been doing its best to better conditions. Hemmed in with regulatory laws, mergers and what not it has been delayed in its endeavors longer than it desired.

Finally, however, we are to emerge into an era of better 'phone service in Washington. It may take a few days for the new machine to get limbered up in the joints but not long until everything is working smoothly and our rosy dreams of happiness will have come true.

Equal Suffragists "Go West."

After their decisive defeat in the eastern states as a result of the last elections, the advocates of woman-suffrage have concluded to abandon, for the present, any attempt to again submit the proposal to a popular vote in the eastern states.

For a time the woman suffrage leaders have determined to confine their efforts for recognition at the polls to the states farther west where the prospect of success is much brighter.

Twelve states, all of them save one—Illinois—west of the Mississippi river have, by a vote of the people conferred either wholly or partially, upon women the right to vote since 1896. Eleven of the states—all of them save Washington—have fallen in line with the new idea within the last half dozen years.

The voters of nine states, all of them east of the big river which divides the east from the west have, within the last four years, refused to allow women the right to vote and one of those states, Ohio, has twice registered its refusal to adopt equal suffrage.

In 1912 the voters of the Buckeye state by a majority of over eighty-seven thousand refused the constitutional amendment submitted by the equal suffragists and again in 1914 by a majority of over one hundred and eighty-seven thousand.

While there is nothing encouraging in the election results in the eastern states, while in fact the election totals indicate that the equal suffrage advocates are losing ground, yet there is encouragement for them to be found that in the west and the south reforms in governmental affairs first take root and from that base they grow and spread.

The eastern states are not quick to adopt radical changes preferring in matters governmental as well as in matters of business, to adhere to the ultra conservative course leaving the western states the sometimes doubtful privilege of "trying out" the new ideas. After adoption and test by the western and southern states, if the practical operations prove equal to the theory, the eastern states will adopt the new idea, but not until then.

The equal suffrage advocates, it is believed, have shown good judgment in confining their activities to a demonstration of the practical worth of their idea, leaving the hostile states severely alone until they have demonstrations of practical good accomplished, through the adoption of their ideas, with which to reinforce their claim of right to recognition.

Poetry For Today

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

Slack up, brother, what's your hurry,
That so recklessly you scurry
With your elbows jabbing sideways
and your glance fixed straight ahead?
Is a minute's time so precious
That you needs must be ungracious
And go tramping on your fellow like
a hungry quadruped?

Can't you spare a nod of greeting,
Pass the time of day on meeting?
Swap a joke or laugh a little when
a neighbor drifts along?
Is the dollar so enticing,
Is "success" so all-sufficing,
That you can't devote a second to a
brother in the throng?

Do you know your destination?
It's a quiet little station
Where ambition never troubles and
the dollar jingles not,
Where there is no bootless striving,
Sordid scheming or contriving,
And the richest man's possession is
a little grassy plot.

Why be overkeen for speeding
On a trail so surely leading
To that lonely little village where we
all must come at last?
Slack up, brother, what's your hurry,
That so recklessly you scurry?
You may head a slow procession ere
another year is past.

Test For Hydrochloric Acid.

A curious mishap gave us a very delicate test for hydrochloric acid in the atmosphere. In a north of England locality many houses have curtains of the cream color produced by metanil yellow, popularly known as "dolly" cream dye—and to science as "the sodium salt of meta-amido-benzene sulphonic acid-azo-diphenyl-amine." Some of these cream colored curtains suddenly changed to heliotrope. Investigation showed that an accidental escape of hydrochloric acid from a neighboring alkali plant had discolored the curtains, and the dye became a most useful test.—London Globe.

Luke McLuke Says

It takes a course in the school of experience to show a man how much he does not know.
The man who is so busy making money that he hasn't time to make friends doesn't get much fun out of life.
Maybe a woman likes to call her husband "dear" in public because she knows it makes him feel cheap.
A woman's idea of a gossip is a dame who tells a secret before the woman has a chance to tell it herself.
Make up a list of the men to whom you owe money and you will have a list of the men with the best memories in the world.
Father is always bragging what a great scholar he was when he went to school and how much harder the lessons were when he was a boy than they are today. And then one of the children who is in the fourth grade will ask father about ten questions relating to his studies, and father will say, "Run away and don't bother me—can't you see I'm busy?" because father can't answer one of the questions.
When a woman hasn't anything else to do she can have a fine time scaring up a lot of troubles that will never happen.
This is a cold, calculating, practical world. A dollar's worth of pennies in your pocket will get you more than a billion dollars' worth of great ancestors on your family tree.
The old order changeth. It is no longer necessary to wear your hair down to your shoulders to be considered a genius.

FATE OF THE RESOLUTE.

British Economy and the End of Franklin's Exploring Ship.

The story of how the brave little exploring ship the Resolute was found by an American vessel in Davis strait after a thousand mile cruise from Melville island without a soul on board is easily the most captivating in the history of arctic exploration. The Resolute, locked in the ice, was abandoned on May 15, 1854, sorely against the will of her captain by advice of the leader of the Belcher-Franklin expedition. The reappearance of the vessel on Sept. 17 caused a great sensation, and the United States brought the vessel with great ceremony to Cowes in order to present it to the queen of England.

The queen, the prince consort and others of the royal family then at Osborne House inspected the vessel, which had been carefully repaired and all the original furniture retained in position down to the smallest trinkets. The American skipper traced before her majesty the thousand mile course of the vessel and expressed his belief that Sir John Franklin was still alive, living among the Eskimos.

After many banquets the actual transfer of the vessel took place on Dec. 30, 1856, when the American flag was replaced by the British. And now comes the tragedy. The admiralty had no sooner come into the possession of the vessel than it proceeded to break it up on the good old principle of public economy!—London Chronicle.

A TRAP FOR MARINERS.

Salmadina Bank, Off Colombia's Coast, Is a Perilous Shoal.

One of the most dangerous places for navigation is the Salmadina bank, which lies just outside the harbor of Cartagena, Colombia. Many vessels have come to grief on the treacherous sands of Salmadina in the past, and because of the impossibility of keeping buoys on it the shoal is a constant menace to ships plying those waters.

This dangerous bank is about four miles long and two miles wide. There is scarcely more than twelve feet of water over it at any time. The sea is usually smooth in that part of the Caribbean, and unless there is ground swell enough to cause waves to break on the reef there is nothing to warn the navigator that he is approaching this shallow spot. He may have his head going and get plenty of water one minute and be bang up on the shoal the next.

The lighthouse people will probably never be able to put buoys on Salmadina that will stay there. They are invariably carried away in the terrific hurricanes that periodically sweep these waters. So it seems as if Salmadina was a bad spot put there for the permanent worryment of shipmasters.—New York Sun.

FINAL PLANS ARE MADE FOR THE NEW AUTOMATIC

With a jingle of bells, flashing of signal lights, whirr of electric machinery and the testing out here and there of switches, the local branch of The Ohio State Telephone Company is preparing for the long expected discarding of the old plant and supplanting it with the very latest thing in telephone equipment, and this change will take place tonight between the hours of nine o'clock and ten-thirty.

A large number of telephone men from Columbus and other points of the state are flocking to this city to see, for the first time, a union of a city system and rural lines by automatic equipment, which has been tested out and found working perfectly.

Instructions have been issued to patrons of the company to cut the

small wires connecting the old and new instruments, before the patron retires for the night, and to use the new automatic Tuesday morning.

It is possible the new automatic will be working by 10:30 tonight, but patrons are not expected to try out the phones at that time unless they are making a regular call, as the workmen will be busy all night completing the final touches that will be required after the cut-over is made.

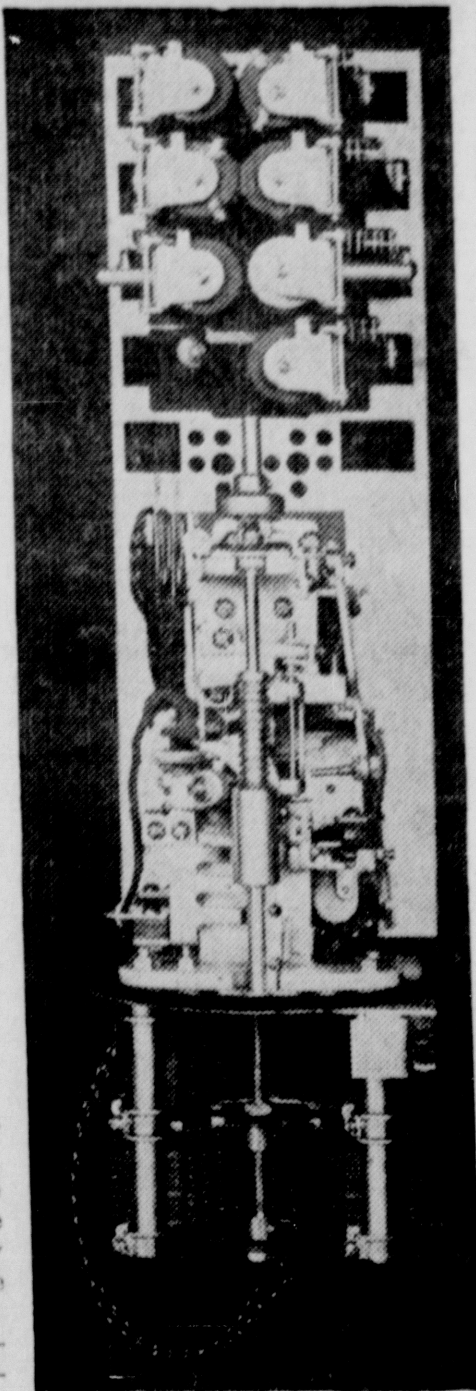

It is expected that two or three days will elapse before every phone is working perfectly, particularly should the subscriber fail to cut the small wires as instructed.

The cutting over to the new system is an important event in telephone circles, and will be watched

with deep interest by the many telephone men who will be here to witness the event.

THE AUTOMATIC SWITCH.

The Automatic Switch, reduced to every day language, is the mechanical device supplanting the operator in the telephone office.

It is operated when the dial is turned. The functions of this switch are to connect the subscriber with the number dialed, and to ring the bell of the party wanted. It will keep other people from calling the same line while it is in use. In the case where a busy line is dialed a "Busy Buzz" tells that the line is busy. It will tell you by an intermittent "burring" sound that the bell of the party you want is being rung. When the receiver is hung up it will instantaneously disconnect the parties talking.

In fact the Automatic Switch does all the labor now performed by the operator and the patron becomes his own operator, controlling this device with the dial.

While there are hundreds of these little "mechanical operators" in the telephone office, they are practically all duplicates of each other. A system of periodical inspections and adjustments is made which keeps these switches in proper working condition.

The Automatic Telephones

will go into service tonight, November the 15th.

The work of installing the automatic central office equipment and telephones is completed and are being tested, and will be ready for service tonight.

This change to Automatic service marks a great change of the local plant of The Ohio State Telephone Company, as this is the latest improved equipment to be put into service.

Subscribers who have at their telephones, a small tag tied to the wires connecting the old and the new telephones together, will cut these wires as the instructions on the card direct, before retiring. In the event there is no tag on the wires, it will not be necessary to cut any, and your Automatic phone will be in service Tuesday morning. If this is not done your telephone will not be working until a workman comes to clear the line.

The business men will please cut the wires as the card directs, before closing your stores and offices and Automatic service will be awaiting you in the morning.

Rural, as well as city phones, will go into service at the same time.

Read carefully the directions, given in the directory, for operating the telephones.

Do not try to use your old phone on Tuesday morning, but use the Automatic only.

Automatic telephone service is the best on earth, and to secure the best Automatic service, read and follow the directions carefully.

DEATH CLAIMS WIFE AND MOTHER

After a lingering illness, complicated in its nature, and combatted with wonderful bravery Mrs. Charles Lininger answered the eternal summons Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at her home east of town, on the Circleville pike.

Comparatively a young woman, leaving a husband and five young sons bereft of a devoted wife and mother, Mrs. Lininger's death is sad beyond words to express.

She was the daughter of the late William Ward and a large family connection on both sides of the house shares in the deeper grief of her own family.

RESIGNS OFFICE

In Social Circles

Seldom has a golden wedding anniversary been more delightfully celebrated than that of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Priest, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. O. L. Blackmore, of S. Fayette street, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Priest have enjoyed the unusual happiness of rounding out their fifty years of wedded life together in health and felicitous surroundings, and the anniversary occasion was the crowning event of the peaceful years.

There were about twenty who responded to invitations sent out. Owing to the inclemency of the weather their friends from their former home of Leesburg were unable to be present and their son, Ed Priest, and family of Springfield, detained by auto trouble, while on their way.

As the clock was striking the hour of one the guests assembled in the parlor, Mr. and Mrs. Priest taking their place before the altar to renew their marriage vows to each other for the remainder of their lives. Rev. John Near performed the ceremony, and in a few well chosen words reminded them that they were now in the evening of life and fast approaching the time when they must say good night to each other here, but thank God, only a few moments when they can say good morning in the Glory land.

After congratulations the bride and groom led the way to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was served.

The bride's table was decorated with a large centerpiece of white and gold chrysanthemums. Seated with the bride and groom were Rev. John Near and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Bosler Lemons, Mr. Merritt Sturgeon and daughter Miss Etha.

The gold and white color scheme was prettily carried out in refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Priest received a number of beautiful and useful presents, several gold pieces, hand embroidered work and gold banded china and a gold headed cane, presented by several old soldiers.

Among those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gleadall and son Harold of Leesburg, the guests including Rev. John Near and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Bosler Lemons, Mr. Merritt Sturgeon and daughter Miss Etha, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe, Miss Grace Miller, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Perce Pearce, and son Henry.

Late in the afternoon the guests took their departure, wishing the bride and groom many more happy years together.

Enjoy the Latest Opera Music in Your Own Home

WHEN the opera companies are playing in New York, you can enjoy the same music in your own living room.

An INNER-PLAYER Piano

is all that is necessary. You can play any composition on it even if you have never taken a music lesson.

Simply insert a music roll, pump the pedals and move three little levers, and you produce music with the same expression that the skilled pianist obtains.

The INNER-PLAYER Pianos are different from all other instruments which have player mechanisms in their cases. They have patented features which you find only in the INNER-PLAYER device.

The Transposing Device enables you to change from one key to another and to raise or lower the key at will.

The Solo-Aid enables you to play the melody louder than the accompaniment, simply by the pressure of your little finger.

The Miniature Keyboard gives elasticity to the action and produces a natural touch.

The Pedal Lever Action makes pedaling easy and makes possible immediate response of the player action to the motion of the feet.

The Key-Lock prevents motion of the piano keys and makes better repetition possible.

The Wrist-rest and Lever Cover prevents fatigue of the wrists when playing.

The powerful Six-Unit Motor makes the movement of the music sheet positive and smooth.

The Fibre Bearings and Guides give durability and prevent rattling of the moving parts.

The Tilting Superstructure and Sectional Bellows give the tuner easy access to strings and pins.

You can buy an INNER-PLAYER Piano on easy terms. If you have a piano or an organ exchange it as part payment.

AUSTRIA ADMITS SHE SUNK LINER

Says Ancona Was Warned Before Attacked.

PLACES BLAME ON CREW

Commander of Ancona, the Vienna Official Report States, Was Given Forty-five Minutes to Abandon Ship. Members of Crew Only Attempted to Save Themselves, the Statement Claims.

Washington, Nov. 15.—With the issuance of a statement by the Austro-Hungarian embassy giving the official account of the destruction of the Italian liner Ancona, the case of the Ancona, which has been a puzzle to the state department ever since she was torpedoed in the Mediterranean last Tuesday, was presented in still a new light.

In this official report the Austro-Hungarian government assumes full responsibility for the sinking of the Ancona. This means that the reported statement by the Italian government that a German submarine sank the Ancona will have to be supported by proof before it will be accepted as a basis for action by this government.

While the Austro-Hungarian statement, if accepted as correct, disposes of the question as to whether the Ancona was warned before being attacked, it raises still another issue in which the United States government may prove to be vitally concerned. It is shown that any Americans were killed by the actual torpedoing of the Ancona—that is, that they lost their lives on the vessel when she went down rather than by being hit by shells, or after leaving the ship in lifeboats—it is believed the United States will protest on the ground that the vessel was torpedoed before all her passengers and crew had left her.

Whether Americans were actually lost in this manner has not been shown. In this aspect the case is similar to that of the Falaba, the first case in which an American was killed by German submarine operations.

The Austrian statement says that after fifty minutes the submarine submerged and torpedoed the Ancona because another steamer was coming up. Reports of survivors have indicated that this took place before all had left the ship. Precisely the same thing happened in the Falaba case, and resulted in one American losing his life.

The statement of the Austro-Hungarian embassy, which consisted of the text of a dispatch from the Austrian admiralty, was as follows:

"The submarine fired one shell before the steamer's bow upon which the steamer fled under full speed. According to orders of the Italian authorities steamers must flee or attempt to sink submarines. The submarine pursued the steamer and continued firing at the steamer which stopped only when hit several times. The submarine allowed forty-five minutes to abandon the steamer. Panic reigned, but only small boats were lowered, and they were occupied principally by the crew. A great number of boats, probably sufficient to save passengers, remained unoccupied. After fifty minutes, the submarine, in presence of approaching steamer, submerged and torpedoed Ancona, which sank after forty-five minutes. If passengers lost their lives it was through the crew's fault because the steamer tried to escape after receiving order to stop. Then the crew only attempted to save themselves and not the passengers. Foreign press reports that the submarine fired on the lifeboats are pernicious inventions."

SUFFS' PROGRAM

Washington, Nov. 15.—The program for the first convention of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage is complete. It will begin Monday, Dec. 6, the day that congress convenes, when the two envoys—Mrs. Sara Bard Field and Miss Frances Joliffe—arrive from California and are received by the suffragists at the outskirts of the capital and escorted in. It will close with a grand pageant to Susan B. Anthony at Convention hall Monday evening, Dec. 13. The national executive committee of the Congressional union will meet Dec. 14 to formulate plans for the future.

IN DANGER ZONE

Washington, Nov. 15.—Fears are felt here for the safety of Mme. Slavko Grouitch, formerly Miss Mabel Dunlop of Clarksburg, W. Va., wife of the Serbian permanent under secretary of foreign affairs, who returned to Nish last summer after a speaking tour of this country. Mme. Grouitch was a close friend of Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. John A. Logan, making her debut under their auspices at the home of the latter.

MORRIS PLEADS WITH WILLIS TO PAY FAIR BILLS

Columbus, Nov. 15.—In an open letter to Governor Willis, Charles E. Morris, manager of the press bureau of the Democratic state executive committee, calls upon the governor, as president of the state emergency board, to see that enough money is appropriated to pay creditors of the board of agriculture in connection with the state fair. He holds many of these claims to be illegal, but service having been rendered in good faith, he insists the credit and honor of the state should be maintained by paying the bills. He says many creditors have turned over their accounts to him for collection. Many of the claimants whom Morris represents, he intimates, are newspapers which carried advertising material for the fair.

PEACE POSTPONED

Lucerne, Switzerland, Nov. 15.—The international congress called to study fundamental bases for peace and which was expected to open at Berne Dec. 14 has been postponed until after the new year. The reasons given for the postponement of the opening are that circumstances are not yet favorable and that preparations for holding the congress have been delayed.

FOREMOST NEGRO TEACHER IS DEAD

Booker Washington, Noted Educator, Dead.

HEAD OF NEGRO INSTITUTE

Suffered Nervous Breakdown in New York Last Week and Died Soon After Reaching Tuskegee, the Scene of His Labors—Founded One of the Foremost Negro Colleges in the World—Sketch of His Career.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 15.—Booker T. Washington, foremost teacher and leader of the negro race, died early Sunday at his home near the Tuskegee institute, of which he was founder and president. Hardening of the arteries, following a nervous breakdown, caused death a few hours after Dr. Washington arrived from New York.

Booker Washington was known as the greatest educator the negro race has ever produced. He was an orator of real distinction and was highly honored by white men of eminence. He constantly preached common sense to his race.

It was through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie that Washington was left free to devote his life to the cause of educating negroes. Mr. Carnegie gave $600,000 to the Tuskegee Farm Land Industrial institute at Tuskegee, Ala., the school made famous throughout the world because of Mr. Washington's connection with it and devotion to it.

Mr. Washington was born a slave in Virginia in 1858 or 1859. As a lad he never really knew what play meant. As soon as he was able to toddle he was put to work. His chief task was taking corn to and from the mill, where it was ground. He worked his way through the primary grades and later graduated from Wayland seminary in Washington.

When Mr. Washington was placed at the head of the new negro institute at Tuskegee, Ala., he found there had been no land or buildings provided.

But Mr. Washington went to work with immense pride, energy and optimism. He began to teach in a small shanty. From that time on the growth of the institution was phenomenal. Persons all over the land became interested in Tuskegee and the man who was making it famous. Gifts flowed in. Extensions became possible. Now Tuskegee possesses property worth $2,000,000 or more, uses fifty buildings, which are upon 3,000 acres of land. Annually from 1,500 to 2,000 young negro men and women are taught how to make their lives count for the most for themselves, for their race and their country.

Mr. Washington was in great demand as a public speaker. He was called into consultation by President McKinley in regard to matters affecting the negro. President Roosevelt admired him highly and frequently consulted him. President Taft recognized his keenness of judgment and his sincerity of purpose. Harvard university gave him a degree in 1896 and other colleges conferred degrees upon him subsequently. In 1893 he married Maggie Y. Murray, who became closely identified with the work at Tuskegee.

PETER DELACY DEAD

New York, Nov. 15.—Peter Delacy, seventyone, foremost for many years among the pool room gambling fraternity of this city and, paradoxically, a leading figure in later days in the fights that practically wiped out horse racing in New York and New Jersey, died of pneumonia, which developed after an operation.

POLICE BATTLE BOOZE DEALERS

Chicago, Nov. 15.—After an exchange of fifty shots the police invaded and captured Captain George Wellington Streeter's "District of Lake Michigan," a plot of filled-in land on the shore of Lake Michigan, where, until Sunday, Streeter had successfully defied the officers who sought to arrest him on a charge of violating the Sunday closing order. Mrs. John Hoist, wife of one of Streeter's tenants, was slightly wounded. Streeter, his wife and fifteen others were placed under arrest and 192 cases of beer, six rifles, four revolvers and a quantity of ammunition were confiscated.

AMERICAN HOSPITAL OPENS IN PETROGRAD

Petrograd, Nov. 15.—The American hospital was formally opened with enlarged quarters in the presence of Baron Rozen, former Russian ambassador to the United States, and Count Nostitz, City Councilman Sangalli, a patron of the institution, and George T. Marye, the American ambassador, who is president of the hospital, delivered addresses. Russian friends presented the hospital with a portrait of Grand Duke Alexis, the heir apparent. Two soldiers responded to the addresses in English and thanked the Americans for their gift to the hospital.

LOADED RUSSIAN VESSEL DEPARTS

New York, Nov. 15.—The Russian-American liner Czaritzza sailed for Archangel with a big cargo of war material and 130 passengers, mostly stevedores. She was delayed several hours while detectives examined the clothing and baggage of every voyager, taking all weapons, knives and razors from everybody who had any and storing them away for return to the owners at the end of the trip. All the vodka carried by Russian passengers was confiscated.

CHINESE VOTE FORMONARCHY

Washington, Nov. 15.—In each of the twenty-seven Chinese provinces conventions are assembling to record the decision of the Chinese people upon the two questions upon which they voted at the polls last week, the acceptance of the revised constitution prepared by the drafting committee of the council of state and the substitution of a monarchical form of government for the republic. Reports reaching Washington indicate that an overwhelming majority of the limited electorate has recorded itself as in favor of both the constitution and the monarchy. Interest now centers, therefore, upon the next step which will be taken by President Yuan Shi Kai.

SALONKI IS HELD TO BE OPEN PORT

Grecian King Replies to Protest of Teuton Allies.

SERBIAN ARMY RETREATING

Falling Back From Mountain Range to Mountain Range Before the Advancing Austro-German Forces—Allied Troops Holding Bulgarians in the South—Activity Reported Along the Entire Eastern Front.

London, Nov. 15.—Temporarily at least the political situation is held graver than that of the military. The central powers have again protested to Greece against the landing of allied troops at Salonica. King Constantine is reported to have replied that as Salonica is an open port there has been no infringement of Greek rights in the landing and that Greece will remain neutral until one of the belligerents has transgressed against those rights. France and Italy, who have now joined her allies by sending a warship to Salonica, are particularly anxious as to the attitude of Greece.

Berlin reports that the Serbians are falling back from mountain range to mountain range before the advance of the Austro-German forces. The reports enumerate the capture of 1,000 or more prisoners daily, a few guns and quantities of stores. The Serbians are fighting continuously, however, and are inflicting considerable losses on their pursuers.

Along the eastern front the Serbians appear to be holding their own against the Bulgarians and are making a stand on the western bank of the Morava river. So stubborn has been their resistance the Bulgarians have had to call for assistance from the Austro-German artillery in their effort to drive the defenders out of Katchanik Pass.

The British and French troops, which are receiving reinforcements, are meeting with some success, and,

Stephenson In His Book Says He Aided La Follette.

Washington, Nov. 15.—At the age of eighty-six years ex-Senator Isaac Stephenson, one of the last of Wisconsin's lumber merchants, has issued a volume of recollections which he claims reveals his relations with Robert M. La Follette and with the

besides repulsing the Bulgarian attacks, have undertaken small offensive movements. The Austro-Germans and Bulgarians, however, made such progress from the beginning of the campaign that it will take serious work now to check them.

The Russians have definitely repelled Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's drive toward Riga and Dvinsk and along the Dvina river and have themselves taken the offensive, but apparently, owing to the state of the ground, have been able to make only slow progress in the marshy region west of Riga. Along the Sty river, in the south, the Austro-Germans, by a counter stroke, have pierced the Russian lines and captured 1,500 prisoners, according to the Berlin official statement. These strokes are about all that can be expected on the eastern front while the soft weather continues.

General Von Linsingen's army, hard pressed by the Russians for many weeks past, have turned attackers and have broken through the positions of the czar's forces near the much-contested town of Czartorysk, in the immediate vicinity of Podgaire, taking 1,515 prisoners and four machine guns.

On the western front there have been no events of importance.

BOMBS DROPPED FROM THE SKIES KILL AND CRIPPLE

Rome, Nov. 15.—Thirty persons are dead in Verona as a result of three Austrian aeroplanes dropping bombs on the city. Thirty other persons were seriously and nineteen slightly injured. The bombs of the air craft found most of their victims in the principal square of the city, where citizens and peasants from the outlying districts were attending the market. Nineteen persons were killed by one bomb. The aeroplanes visited various parts of the city, but none of the missiles dropped by them fell near any of the military buildings.

tumultuous political movement within that state which resulted in the genesis of the "Wisconsin Idea."

The venerable ex-senator says he spent more than $500,000 on La Follette and his political lieutenants, and that he has contributed probably $1,000,000 to the Republican party. He describes La Follette "weeping with joy" when his (Stephenson's) agent handed him the first $2,500.

Senator Stephenson states that La Follette turned against him finally, trying to have him removed from the senate soon after he refused to pay up $250,000 to back La Follette's candidacy for the presidential nomination. Mr. Stephenson does not seek to connect the two events or to draw any deductions from them.

The campaigns of the Progressive-Republicans of Wisconsin, long supposed to have derived their force entirely from the spontaneous uprising of the people against the bosses, did not differ greatly from other campaigns, according to Mr. Stephenson. While Senator La Follette was working zealously on the firing line Isaac Stephenson, in the background, was keeping the bases intact, and by frequent drafts upon his checkbook providing the weapons with which the old order in the Republican party was overthrown and the new established.

POPE LEAVES VATICAN?

Rome, Nov. 15.—Pope Benedict has made an important departure from the custom of the pontiffs by visiting the Church of Saint Anna, adjoining the apostolic palace, and thus going outside the vatican precincts, according to the newspaper Giornale d'Italia. Since the fall of temporal power, one form of papal protest against the new order of things has been the seclusion of the pontiffs in the vatican.

GIVES PRAISE TO CARRANZA

New York, Nov. 15.—General Carranza is fast restoring order throughout Mexico and is confident that he will soon conquer Villa and Zapata, according to Eliseo Arrendondo, confidential agent of the Constitutional government in this country, who arrived here from a visit to the first chief, whom he accompanied on a tour of the northern part of Mexico. After a brief stay here, Mr. Arrendondo plans to return to Washington to resume his duties.

"General Carranza will reach Mexico City at the end of this month and then begin to organize his cabinet and make the necessary government appointments," said Mr. Arrendondo. The Carranza agent added that the first chief expects to announce soon the appointment of his ambassador to Washington. "General Carranza is confident," Mr. Arrendondo continued, "that he has the military situation well in hand."

PLAIN TALK TO GERMANS

London, Nov. 15.—"Every German man must be taught to feel that he has failed to perform a pious and patriotic duty if he is not a father, and every woman must be made to understand that she has failed in her obligations to Germany if she does not become a wife and mother." A committee of scientists and sociologists, detached from the immediate war service to study the problem of increasing Germany's population, have submitted to the government a memorandum, of which the above is the keynote.

ANCONA DEAD NUMBER 208

Rome, Nov. 15.—It is announced by the Italian emigration office that 208 persons, including nine American citizens, perished in the torpedoing of the Italian steamer Ancona last week off the coast of Tunis. Indignation aroused in Italy at this large death list, together with a growing certainty that the submarine which sank the Ancona was a German craft, has precipitated a crisis which is expected to bring about a declaration of war against the German government.

Italian officials have now carefully gone over the lists of living and dead in the Ancona disaster and announce that of the 507 persons on board the steamship when she was attacked, only 299 were rescued. Of the latter one was an American. Nine Americans lost their lives.

END OF TWENTY YEAR ROMANCE

Findlay, O., Nov. 15.—A romance of twenty years was ended tragically at Benton Ridge, eight miles west of Findlay, when Miss Ada Warner, forty-two, shot and probably fatally wounded Norris H. Powell, forty-five, her sweetheart, and, returning to her own home, cut her throat with a razor and is in a critical condition. Physicians declare she persists in breaking open the wound, saying she wants to die. Powell's refusal to marry her after so long a courtship is said to be her reason for the act.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.
No gripping is a "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.
Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

THINGS DOING AT THE MOVIES

COLONIAL.

"Carmen," time honored favorite of the legitimate stage patrons for years and years, comes to the Colonial Friday. But it is a different Carmen; not in the sense that the plot or thread of the beautiful old story has been tampered with, but in that it has found a field in photo-play for much greater expansion and expression than it could ever have hoped for on the stage. William Fox recognized the possibility. His appreciation of it is indicated in his choosing of Theda Bara for the title role.

Tuesday, Metro presents Emmet Carrigan, in a strong five reel feature, "Greater Love Hath No Man."
Wednesday, George Kline presents a Griffith-directed all star Biograph program, whose cast will include Mary Pickford, Blanche Sweet, Lillian Gish and others.
"Home Sweet Home," another Griffith star production, is booked for Thursday.

PALACE.

The headliner at The Palace this week is "The White Sister," a V. L. S. E. production in 6 acts featuring Viola Allen, who starred in the play of the same name on the legitimate stage for a long time. Special music by Horstman and Kneisley. Miss Allen is supported by Richard C. Travers, prominent Essanay star.

WONDERLAND.

Two Paramount pictures, both right up to the usual snuff, will be the two most prominent features in a week of good attractions. These will be "The Woman," on Wednesday, and Thursday, "The Blood of the Forefathers," unusually strong topics, well presented, each picture having five parts.

The High school Glee Clubs, made up of 30 girls and 25 boys selected voices from the H. S. will give a concert Wednesday evening, November 24, in the High school auditorium.

For the third part of the concert the clubs will sing the cantata, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," a beautiful musical setting by Thos. Anderton to Longfellow's poem. The solo parts are taken by Olive Hillery, mezzo soprano, Robert Craig, tenor, Robert McFadden, baritone. Other entertaining features are being worked out and it is hoped to give the best concert the local glee clubs have ever presented.

Tickets will be on sale Saturday morning at Tuttle's Book Store. Admission 25c.

8500 SERBIANS
TAKEN PRISONER

Invaders Continue to Press Serbs Back at Nearly All Points—Russians Take Offensive at New Point—Italians Are Making Progress—Germans Subs in Mediterranean Sea Shipped Overland Heavy Fighting in West—Italians Demanding Drastic Reprisals for Raid—Kitchener Said to Carry Ultimatum to Greece.

By Associated Press.

London, November 15.—An official statement from Berlin reported the capture of 8,500 Serbians and asserts that Bulgarian forces took 7,000 of these, together with six cannon.

The Serbians continue to be driven back along the line, it is announced.

Berlin also claims a somewhat decided success for German arms along the Styr river, where it is claimed the entire western bank of the river has been cleared of Russians.

The Russians appear to have begun an offensive movement in a new region, the German war office reporting Russian attacks east of Vilna, which were repulsed. The latest official reports by the Italian general staff claims progress for the Italians on the Isonzo front.

An Austrian general is quoted in a Berlin dispatch as saying that the Italian offensive has not even dent the Austrian line in the Isonzo region.

A Saloniki report says German submarines are using the Bulgarian harbor of Vardar as a base of operations.

Rome, November 15.—The air raid upon Verona, which resulted in the death of 30 civilians and the wounding of 49 others, has intensified the bitterness felt in Italy against Austria.

One newspaper demands prompt reprisals, suggesting that all Germans in Italy be interned in concentration camps, that Austro-German property be confiscated and that 35,000 Austrian prisoners be held as hostages.

Travelers arriving at Milan from Verona say the enemy aviators were favored by foggy weather and approached close to the city before they were noticed.

A bomb, dropped in a public square claimed women as its victims for the most part.

London, November 15.—The reported mission of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener to King Constantine of Greece has evoked considerable comment in the London newspapers.

They almost unanimously agree that Great Britain has taken the best possible means of bringing Greece to a definite decision.

The Pall Mall Gazette, voicing what appears to be the general view says:

"It seems probable that Earl Kitchener has gone armed with full powers to bring this tortuous ruler (referring to King Constantine) face to face with distinct alternative."

Rome, November 15.—Rome newspapers say that the Austrian submarines which are now so active in the Mediterranean were shipped in pieces from Kiel, Germany, to Trieste, accompanied by German mechanics and naval officers.

From Trieste, they were taken to the Austrian naval arsenal at Pola, where they were assembled.

NO MALICE IS HARBORED BY
THE PRESIDENT

By Associated Press.

Washington, November 15.—President Wilson today instructed Postmaster General Burleson to reinstate George Burkitt, removed as assistant postmaster at Winnetka, Ills., because he criticized the president for his engagement to be married.

The president qualified his instructions by telling the postmaster general Burkitt should be reinstated to his position if there were no other charges against him.

It was said unofficially that the president entirely disapproved of discharging Burkitt for making the remark accredited to him.

In published correspondence between Burkitt and the postmaster of Winnetka, it was stated that Burkitt had been given demerits for other things than the remarks about the president's engagement.

That, Burkitt denied.

White House officials were annoyed by the publicity given to the case, and it was expected that the postmaster general would act immediately on the president's instruction.

PAGE UNABLE TO GET FACTS

By Associated Press.

Washington, November 15.—Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page at Rome cables that his conferences at the Italian foreign office thus far have failed to develop the details or facts concerning the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona.

The Italian government, according to Mr. Page, is having considerable difficulty establishing just what occurred when the vessel went down.

Secretary Lansing has been waiting to learn whether it was a German or Austrian submarine which destroyed the Ancona, and therefore has not instructed either Ambassador Gerard or Ambassador Penfield to call at the Berlin and Vienna foreign offices, respectively to ask for information.

NO HOPE FOR EITHER VICTIM

By Associated Press.

Findlay, O., November 15.—Physicians today held out no hope for the recovery of either Norris H. Powell, 44, nor Miss Ada Warner, 40, his sweetheart who Saturday night shot him and then cut her own throat, when he refused to marry her after she entered his home near midnight and demanded at the point of a gun, that he take her for his wife.

Miss Warner is at the home of her parents, 12 stitches having closed the wound in her neck which she inflicted with a razor.

She is being kept under opiates for she says she will tear the stitches from the wounds at her first opportunity, in her desperation into die.

Tuskegee, Alabama, November 15.—Funeral arrangements were being completed today for Booker T. Washington, the noted negro educator and founder of Tuskegee Institute, who died here yesterday, of a nervous breakdown.

Funeral services will be held at the institute Wednesday morning, followed by interment in the institute grounds. The body will lie in state all day tomorrow.

Thousands of Alabamians, in addition to prominent educators and others from various parts of the country, are expected to attend the funeral.

A special train will be run from Montgomery to bring state officials and others.

ADRIATIC IS SUNK?

By Associated Press.

New York, November 15.—There was a report this morning in maritime circles that the steamship Adriatic had been sunk, but the report did not state whether the steamship was the big passenger ship of the White Star Line or was the British steamship Adriatic, which left Kymassi, Greece, on October 13 for Philadelphia and passed Tarifa, Spain, October 19.

The White Star Line Adriatic arrived in Liverpool on November 11 and was not scheduled to leave for New York until November 24.

Later a report became current that it was the Adriatic of the White Star Line that was in trouble.

The other steamship Adriatic, bound for Philadelphia, should be about mid-Atlantic today.

Officials of the White Star Line did not credit the report.

TAKE THE DARDANELLES AT ALL COSTS, SAYS CHURCHILL

By Associated Press.

London, November 15.—(Bulletin)—In his speech in the House of Commons today, Winston Spencer Churchill declared that if any operations in the history of the world were worth carrying through with sustained fury and utter disregard of life, the operations at the Dardanelles were worth it.

Mr. Churchill, who resigned last week as chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, said also that the project of sending an army to the relief of Antwerp originated with Field Marshal Kitchener and the French government.

Mr. Churchill made this statement in outlining the reason for his resignation from the cabinet and explaining his administration of the Admiralty, of which he formerly was the first lord.

ALLEGED GERMAN CONSPIRATOR
MAKES CONFESSION OF GUILT

By Associated Press.

New York, November 15.—Robert Fay, one of the six men now under indictment charged with attempting to place bombs on munitions ships sailing for England and France, today made a long statement to United States Attorney Marshal.

The statement is understood to be in the nature of a confession and also to furnish details of the alleged German plot to destroy or damage munitions shipped from this country to the allies.

A prominent official connected with the investigation said a quasi-agreement had been made that Fay would plead guilty when brought to trial with the five others, on conspiracy charges.

If Fay goes before the federal grand jury, it is considered certain that he will not be asked to waive immunity.

New York, November 15.—Robert Fay, the chief figure in the alleged German conspiracy to plant bombs

on steamships carrying munitions to the allies from this port, and for which six men have been indicted, was taken before United States Attorney H. Snowden Marshall today.

Fay talked to William J. Flynn, chief of the secret service, for some time yesterday and was reported to have materially amplified the alleged confession he made to authorities when arrested.

It was stated that Fay had offered to turn state's evidence when the five co-conspirators are placed on trial.

Although no offer of immunity has yet been made to Fay in return for his testimony, it was believed that if he became a government witness he would be granted immunity and taken before the federal grand jury.

The government's attorneys plan to have new indictments against Fay and the other five filed, as a result of the announcement by counsel for the defense that the validity of the present indictments would be contested.

ASK REMOVAL OF ANDERS
FROM BOARD

A suit to test the validity of the appointment of Chas. Anders to the County Board of School Examiners by the County Board of Education, has been filed in Common Pleas court by Prosecutor Tom S. Maddox, the style of the suit being "The State of Ohio on the relation of Tom S. Maddox, Prosecutor of Fayette County, against Chas. L. Anders."

The suit is said to be of a friendly character, and the petition states that the defendant was chosen to the board of County School Examiners on the 31st day of August, 1915, under the pretense that the defendant was a District Superintendent and could hold the office. He was named for a term of two years.

The Court is asked to remove the defendant on the grounds that he is not qualified to hold the office to which he was appointed by a majority of the members of the county board of education.

FORMER RESIDENT
DIES IN SALEM

The sad news that Mr. Tom Larrimer had died Saturday afternoon at his home in Salem, O., reached this city Saturday evening, bringing sorrow to a large circle of friends, as well as to his mother, two sisters and other relatives.

Mr. Larrimer has been ill for several months, suffering from an acute form of anaemia, and his condition has been critical for several weeks. But thirty six years of age, having a wife and three sons, the oldest but thirteen years, death's call seems most untimely.

Mr. Larrimer was formerly connected with the Ohio State Telephone in this city, moving to Salem to take the position of assistant manager with the same company. Always making friends easily, he was specially popular in the Masonic lodge, of which he was an active member. Mr. Larrimer's wife was the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Nye Gregg.

Short funeral services will be held at the home in Salem Monday afternoon, the family leaving with all that is mortal of the husband and father on the evening train for this city. They will arrive Tuesday morning on the five o'clock train and go at once to the home of the deceased's mother, Mrs. Sarah Larrimer, on Washington avenue, where services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, in charge of the Masonic lodge. Burial in Washington cemetery.

LAID 343 EGGS IN 343 DAYS.

Pennsylvania Rival to Lady Eglantine
Vouched For by Owner.

Carlisle, Pa.—With his pet Minorca hen, Queen Elizabeth, W. S. Geremeyer claims to have beaten the world's egg laying record recently established by Lady Eglantine at Delaware college. Queen Elizabeth, he asserts, laid 343 eggs in 343 consecutive days. The best Lady Eglantine did is put at 314 eggs in 365 days. Geremeyer and his wife certify to the correctness of this count. Queen Elizabeth is said to have begun laying on Nov. 4, 1914, and stopped on Oct. 13, 1915, laying an egg a day during that time. Two other fowls of the same brood are said to have laid 328 eggs in the same time.

Queen Elizabeth is a small bird of Black Minorca strain, with a trace of Rhode Island Red, and weighs about four pounds.

Chicago.—The result of fifteen years' study of the evolutions of life are contained in "Senescence and Rejuvenescence," a 500 page volume from the pen of Charles Manning Child, associate professor of zoology in the University of Chicago.

"Certain experimental methods have made it possible not only to follow the physiological changes in some of the lower animals, but to learn something of their nature," Professor Child writes.

"These animals grow old, as do men, but they are also capable of growing young. The process of aging can be retarded or inhibited experimentally and old animals brought back to a condition of youth and made to pass through the life cycle again and again."

HAND BADLY MANGLED WHEN SHOT GUN IS DISCHARGED

Samuel Allen, well known resident of Milledgeville, nearly lost his life while out hunting recently when a shot gun which he carried was accidentally discharged and part of his right hand was carried away and a number of the shot penetrated his neck and face, causing him great suffering and leaving his hand so that it will be permanently crippled.

Mr. Allen was in company with Dr. Adams, of Milledgeville, and other citizens of the same place, and the men were hunting on a farm a few miles west of Plymouth.

Mr. Allen's right hand was crippled as the result of being struck with an axe when he was a mere lad and he was in the act of climbing upon a stump and drawing the gun up by the muzzle when his hand slipped from the barrel of the gun and the weapon in falling, was discharged.

The charge caught him between the thumb and the index finger of his hand, carrying away the flesh and part of the bone, hurling particles of the bone into his hat and face, and leaving a ragged wound between the thumb and finger which could not be closed, so that the finger and thumb were pulled together and dressed in that position in order that the wound might be placed in condition to heal.

The injured man was given immediate attention by Dr. Adams, and Dr. Howell of this city was later called and assisted in dressing the ugly wound. The shot imbedded in Mr. Allen's neck and face could not be located, and he was still suffering greatly from the pain when last heard from.

So far as known this is the first serious hunting accident occurring in Fayette county this season.

office obtainable in the Ohio Lodge of Odd Fellows.

While Mr. Chaffin is opposed by a prominent Odd Fellow who has previously been up two or three times for the office of Grand Warden, it is believed that his position at the head of the Imperial Degree Staff and his wide acquaintance among Ohio Odd Fellows generally, places him in a position where he has a splendid chance of winning the contest.

The election of Grand Lodge officers takes place the first meeting night in December, and Mr. Chaffin's friends throughout the state are boosting his candidacy.

When a child is born in Japan the parents put up outside the house the sign of a fish or a doll, according as it is a boy or a girl. The fish represents a being who has to swim against the stream and make his way in the world. The doll stands for one who is there to be petted and made much of.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Tells How to Retard the Infirmities of Old Age.

"I am 77 years old, and for 35 years have worked on the P. C. & St. L. R. R. Also a Civil War Veteran. I suffered from a general nervous breakdown and would have such weak, dizzy spells I would have to go to bed for a day at a time. When visiting friends in Bradford, O., and old doctor recommended that I try Vinol. That very day I bought a bottle and continued to take it regularly. It has done me a world of good, built me up so I feel stronger in every way, and have gone back to work again, and I want to recommend Vinol to any old comrade or aged person who needs strength for it is a grand medicine." W. H. Bowers, Steubenville, Ohio.

The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz: the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers, without oil, peptonate of iron, beef peptone and a mild tonic wine.

We ask every aged person in Washington Court House to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to create strength. Blackmer & Tanquary, druggists, Washington C. H., O. advt.

The New 'Phone Tomorrow

Tonight during the "wee small hours," when good people are supposed to be in such close relationship with Morpheus that all worldly activities are forgotten, the local telephone company will make the shift from the old and long unsatisfactory bell ring wait on exchange service system to the new convenient and immediate result producing automatic service.

The officials and employees of the local company have been working like Trojans for months installing the new system, all the time continuing the old with the least annoyance possible to subscribers.

The work of the local phone managers and employees has been exceedingly annoying and the expense incident to the change very heavy.

There has been, as a matter of course, some considerable derangement of the service but when the magnitude of the work in hand has been appreciated the annoyances to 'phone users has been inconsiderable in comparison.

The public generally has realized the extent of the work being done and the difficulties encountered and has been patient. The managers and employees have also been patient and obliging under the most trying circumstances. It was rare indeed for the, at times, almost distracted operators to lose their patience with a 'phone user and then only when some impatient, high strung individual forgot that the annoyance he endured once a day was constant with those he complained about. The company has been doing its best to better conditions. Hemmed in with regulatory laws, mergers and what not it has been delayed in its endeavors longer than it desired.

Finally, however, we are to emerge into an era of better 'phone service in Washington. It may take a few days for the new machine to get limbered up in the joints but not long until everything is working smoothly and our rosy dreams of happiness will have come true.

Equal Suffragists "Go West."

After their decisive defeat in the eastern states as a result of the last elections, the advocates of woman-suffrage have concluded to abandon, for the present, any attempt to again submit the proposal to a popular vote in the eastern states.

For a time the woman suffrage leaders have determined to confine their efforts for recognition at the polls to the states farther west where the prospect of success is much brighter.

Twelve states, all of them save one—Illinois—west of the Mississippi river have, by a vote of the people conferred either wholly or partially, upon women the right to vote since 1896. Eleven of the states—all of them save Washington—have fallen in line with the new idea within the last half dozen years.

The voters of nine states, all of them east of the big river which divides the east from the west have, within the last four years, refused to allow women the right to vote and one of those states, Ohio, has twice registered its refusal to adopt equal suffrage.

In 1912 the voters of the Buckeye state by a majority of over eighty-seven thousand refused the constitutional amendment submitted by the equal suffragists and again in 1914 by a majority of over one hundred and eighty-seven thousand.

While there is nothing encouraging in the election results in the eastern states, while in fact the election totals indicate that the equal suffrage advocates are losing ground, yet there is encouragement for them to be found that in the west and the south reforms in governmental affairs first take root and from that base they grow and spread.

The eastern states are not quick to adopt radical changes preferring in matters governmental as well as in matters of business, to adhere to the ultra conservative course leaving the western states the sometimes doubtful privilege of "trying out" the new ideas. After adoption and test by the western and southern states, if the practical operations prove equal to the theory, the eastern states will adopt the new idea, but not until then.

The equal suffrage advocates, it is believed, have shown good judgment in confining their activities to a demonstration of the practical worth of their idea, leaving the hostile states severely alone until they have demonstrations of practical good accomplished, through the adoption of their ideas, with which to reinforce their claim of right to recognition.

Poetry For Today

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

Slack up, brother, what's your hurry,
That so recklessly you scurry
With your elbows jabbing sideways
and your glance fixed straight ahead?
Is a minute's time so precious
That you needs must be ungracious
And go tramping on your fellow like
a hungry quadruped?

Can't you spare a nod of greeting,
Pass the time of day on meeting?
Swap a joke or laugh a little when
a neighbor drifts along?
Is the dollar so enticing,
Is "success" so all-sufficing,
That you can't devote a second to a
brother in the throng?

Do you know your destination?
It's a quiet little station
Where ambition never troubles and
the dollar jingles not,
Where there is no bootless striving,
Sordid scheming or contriving,
And the richest man's possession is
a little grassy plot.

Why be overkeen for speeding
On a trail so surely leading
To that lonely little village where we
all must come at last?
Slack up, brother, what's your hurry,
That so recklessly you scurry?
You may head a slow procession ere
another year is past.

Test For Hydrochloric Acid.

A curious mishap gave us a very delicate test for hydrochloric acid in the atmosphere. In a north of England locality many houses have curtains of the cream color produced by metanil yellow, popularly known as "dolly" cream dye and to science as "the sodium salt of meta-amido-benzene sulphonic acid-azo-diphenyl-amine." Some of these cream colored curtains suddenly changed to heliotrope. Investigation showed that an accidental escape of hydrochloric acid from a neighboring alkali plant had discolored the curtains, and the dye became a most useful test.—London Globe.

Luke McLuke Says

It takes a course in the school of experience to show a man how much he does not know.

The man who is so busy making money that he hasn't time to make friends doesn't get much fun out of life.

Maybe a woman likes to call her husband "dear" in public because she knows it makes him feel cheap.

A woman's idea of a gossip is a dame who tells a secret before the woman has a chance to tell it herself.

Make up a list of the men to whom you owe money and you will have a list of the men with the best memories in the world.

Father is always bragging what a great scholar he was when he went to school and how much harder the lessons were when he was a boy than they are today. And then one of the children who is in the fourth grade will ask father about ten questions relating to his studies, and father will say, "Run away and don't bother me—can't you see I'm busy?" because father can't answer one of the questions.

When a woman hasn't anything else to do she can have a fine time scaring up a lot of troubles that will never happen.

This is a cold, calculating, practical world. A dollar's worth of pennies in your pocket will get you more than a billion dollars' worth of great ancestors on your family tree.

The old order changeth. It is no longer necessary to wear your hair down to your shoulders to be considered a genius.

FATE OF THE RESOLUTE.

British Economy and the End of Franklin's Exploring Ship.

The story of how the brave little exploring ship the Resolute was found by an American vessel in Davis strait after a thousand mile cruise from Melville Island without a soul on board is easily the most captivating in the history of arctic exploration. The Resolute, locked in the ice, was abandoned on May 15, 1854, sorely against the will of her captain by advice of the leader of the Belcher-Franklin expedition. The reappearance of the vessel on Sept. 17 caused a great sensation, and the United States brought the vessel with great ceremony to Cowes in order to present it to the queen of England. The queen, the prince consort and others of the royal family then at Osborne House inspected the vessel, which had been carefully repaired and all the original furniture retained in position down to the smallest trinkets. The American skipper traced before her majesty the thousand mile course of the vessel and expressed his belief that Sir John Franklin was still alive, living among the Eskimos.

After many banquets the actual transfer of the vessel took place on Dec. 30, 1856, when the American flag was replaced by the British. And now comes the tragedy. The admiral had no sooner come into the possession of the vessel than it proceeded to break it up on the good old principle of public economy!—London Chronicle.

A TRAP FOR MARINERS.

Salmadina Bank, Off Colombia's Coast, Is a Perilous Shoal.

One of the most dangerous places for navigation is the Salmadina bank, which lies just outside the harbor of Cartagena, Colombia. Many vessels have come to grief on the treacherous sands of Salmadina in the past, and because of the impossibility of keeping buoys on it the shoal is a constant menace to ships plying those waters.

This dangerous bank is about four miles long and two miles wide. There is scarcely more than twelve feet of water over it at any time. The sea is usually smooth in that part of the Caribbean, and unless there is ground swell enough to cause waves to break on the reef there is nothing to warn the navigator that he is approaching this shallow spot. He may have his lead going and get plenty of water one minute and be bang up on the shoal the next.

The lighthouse people will probably never be able to put buoys on Salmadina that will stay there. They are invariably carried away in the terrific hurricanes that periodically sweep these waters. So it seems as if Salmadina was a bad spot put there for the permanent worryment of shipmasters.—New York Sun.

Samuel Allen, well known resident of Milledgeville, nearly lost his life while out hunting recently when a shot gun which he carried was accidentally discharged and part of his right hand was carried away and a number of the shot penetrated his neck and face, causing him great suffering and leaving him hand so that it will be permanently crippled.

Mr. Allen was in company with Dr. Adams, of Milledgeville, and other citizens of the same place, and the men were hunting on a farm a few miles west of Plymouth.

Mr. Allen's right hand was crippled as the result of being struck with an axe when he was a mere lad and he was in the act of climbing upon a stump and drawing the gun up by the muzzle when his hand slipped from the barrel of the gun and the weapon in falling, was discharged.

The charge caught him between the thumb and the index finger of his hand, carrying away the flesh and part of the bone, hurling particles of the bone into his hat and face, and leaving a ragged wound between the thumb and finger which could not be closed, so that the finger and thumb were pulled together and dressed in that position in order that the wound might be placed in condition to heal.

The injured man was given immediate attention by Dr. Adams, and Dr. Howell of this city was later called and assisted in dressing the ugly wound. The shot imbedded in Mr. Allen's neck and face could not be located, and he was still suffering greatly from the pain when last heard from.

So far as known this is the first serious hunting accident occurring in Fayette county this season.

office obtainable in the Ohio Lodge of Odd Fellows.

While Mr. Chaffin is opposed by a prominent Odd Fellow who has previously been up two or three times for the office of Grand Warden, it is believed that his position at the head of the Imperial Degree Staff and his wide acquaintance among Ohio Odd Fellows generally, places him in a position where he has a splendid chance of winning the contest.

The election of Grand Lodge officers takes place the first meeting night in December, and Mr. Chaffin's friends throughout the state are boosting his candidacy.

Symbolism In Japan.

When a child is born in Japan the parents put up outside the house the sign of a fish or a doll, according as it is a boy or a girl. The fish represents a being who has to swim against the stream and make his way in the world. The doll stands for one who is there to be petted and made much of.

Tells How to Retard the Infirmities of Old Age.

"I am 77 years old, and for 35 years have worked on the P. C. & St. L. R. R. Also a Civil War Veteran. I suffered from a general nervous breakdown and would have such weak, dizzy spells I would have to go to bed for a day at a time. When visiting friends in Bradford, O., and old doctor recommended that I try Vinol. That very day I bought a bottle and continued to take it regularly. It has done me a world of good, built me up so I feel stronger in every way, and have gone back to work again, and I want to recommend Vinol to any old comrade or aged person who needs strength for it is a grand medicine."

W. H. Bowers, Steubenville, Ohio.

The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz: the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers, without oil, peptonate of iron, beef peptone and a mild tonic wine.

We ask every aged person in Washington Court House to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to create strength. Blackmer & Tanquary, druggists, Washington C. H., O. advt.

The New 'Phone Tomorrow

Tonight during the "wee small hours," when good people are supposed to be in such close relationship with Morpheus that all worldly activities are forgotten, the local telephone company will make the shift from the old and long unsatisfactory bell ring wait on exchange service system to the new convenient and immediate result producing automatic service.

The officials and employees of the local company have been working like Trojans for months installing the new system, all the time continuing the old with the least annoyance possible to subscribers.

The work of the local phone managers and employees has been exceedingly annoying and the expense incident to the change very heavy.

There has been, as a matter of course, some considerable derangement of the service but when the magnitude of the work in hand has been appreciated the annoyances to 'phone users has been inconsiderable in comparison.

The public generally has realized the extent of the work being done and the difficulties encountered and has been patient. The managers and employees have also been patient and obliging under the most trying circumstances. It was rare indeed for the, at times, almost distracted operators to lose their patience with a 'phone user and then only when some impatient, high strung individual forgot that the annoyance he endured once a day was constant with those he complained about. The company has been doing its best to better conditions. Hemmed in with regulatory laws, mergers and what not it has been delayed in its endeavors longer than it desired.

Finally, however, we are to emerge into an era of better 'phone service in Washington. It may take a few days for the new machine to get limbered up in the joints but not long until everything is working smoothly and our rosy dreams of happiness will have come true.

Equal Suffragists "Go West."

After their decisive defeat in the eastern states as a result of the last elections, the advocates of woman-suffrage have concluded to abandon, for the present, any attempt to again submit the proposal to a popular vote in the eastern states.

For a time the woman suffrage leaders have determined to confine their efforts for recognition at the polls to the states farther west where the prospect of success is much brighter.

Twelve states, all of them save one—Illinois—west of the Mississippi river have, by a vote of the people conferred either wholly or partially, upon women the right to vote since 1896. Eleven of the states—all of them save Washington—have fallen in line with the new idea within the last half dozen years.

The voters of nine states, all of them east of the big river which divides the east from the west have, within the last four years, refused to allow women the right to vote and one of those states, Ohio, has twice registered its refusal to adopt equal suffrage.

In 1912 the voters of the Buckeye state by a majority of over eighty-seven thousand refused the constitutional amendment submitted by the equal suffragists and again in 1914 by a majority of over one hundred and eighty-seven thousand.

While there is nothing encouraging in the election results in the eastern states, while in fact the election totals indicate that the equal suffrage advocates are losing ground, yet there is encouragement for them to be found that in the west and the south reforms in governmental affairs first take root and from that base they grow and spread.

The eastern states are not quick to adopt radical changes preferring in matters governmental as well as in matters of business, to adhere to the ultra conservative course leaving the western states the sometimes doubtful privilege of "trying out" the new ideas. After adoption and test by the western and southern states, if the practical operations prove equal to the theory, the eastern states will adopt the new idea, but not until then.

The equal suffrage advocates, it is believed, have shown good judgment in confining their activities to a demonstration of the practical worth of their idea, leaving the hostile states severely alone until they have demonstrations of practical good accomplished, through the adoption of their ideas, which to reinforce their claim of right to recognition.

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

Slack up, brother, what's your hurry,
That so recklessly you scurry
With your elbows jabbing sideways
and your glance fixed straight ahead?
Is a minute's time so precious
That you needs must be ungracious
And go tramping on your fellow like
a hungry quadruped?

Can't you spare a nod of greeting,
Pass the time of day on meeting?
Swap a joke or laugh a little when
a neighbor drifts along?
Is the dollar so enticing,
Is "success" so all-sufficing,
That you can't devote a second to a
brother in the throng?

Do you know your destination?
It's a quiet little station
Where ambition never troubles and
the dollar jingles not,
Where there is no bootless striving,
Sordid scheming or contriving,
And the richest man's possession is
a little grassy plot.

Why be overkeen for speeding
On a trail so surely leading
To that lonely little village where we
all must come at last?
Slack up, brother, what's your hurry,
That so recklessly you scurry?
You may head a slow procession ere
another year is past.

Test For Hydrochloric Acid.

A curious mishap gave us a very delicate test for hydrochloric acid in the atmosphere. In a north of England locality many houses have curtains of the cream color produced by metanil yellow, popularly known as "dolly" cream dye and to science as "the sodium salt of meta-amido-benzene sulphonic acid-azo-diphenylamine." Some of these cream colored curtains suddenly changed to heliotrope. Investigation showed that an accidental escape of hydrochloric acid from a neighboring alkali plant had discolored the curtains, and the dye became a most useful test.—London Globe.

Up to the bar I see him go.

He is an awful grouch, although He's always full of "smiles."

Oh, Joy!

Miss Eva Holland, the hovel haunter and heart balm of the juvenile courts, trips into our palatial office, penetrating even into the section where we are shut off from the sheep, and begs us to cheer up, as she has found Miss Iona Hook, who lives no other place than right here, in this old home of peace and plenty. At the officer's suggestion we have written Luke McLuke, the editorial sage of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and asked him to go out along the street car tracks and pick up a couple of Poles before laying off for a week's fall fishing with us in the placid streams that wind among the fertile fields and—finish this yourself, please; we have to answer the telephone.—Wilmington (O.) ## Luke McLuke Says

It takes a course in the school of experience to show a man how much he does not know.
The man who is so busy making money that he hasn't time to make friends doesn't get much fun out of life.

Maybe a woman likes to call her husband "dear" in public because she knows it makes him feel cheap.

A woman's idea of a gossip is a dame who tells a secret before the woman has a chance to tell it herself.

Make up a list of the men to whom you owe money and you will have a list of the men with the best memories in the world.

Father is always bragging what a great scholar he was when he went to school and how much harder the lessons were when he was a boy than they are today. And then one of the children who is in the fourth grade will ask father about ten questions relating to his studies, and father will say, "Run away and don't bother me—can't you see I'm busy?" because father can't answer one of the questions.

When a woman hasn't anything else to do she can have a fine time scaring up a lot of troubles that will never happen.

This is a cold, calculating, practical world. A dollar's worth of pennies in your pocket will get you more than a billion dollars' worth of great ancestors on your family tree.

The old order changeth. It is no longer necessary to wear your hair down to your shoulders to be considered a genius.

FATE OF THE RESOLUTE.

British Economy and the End of Franklin's Exploring Ship.

The story of how the brave little exploring ship the Resolute was found by an American vessel in Davis strait after a thousand mile cruise from Melville Island without a soul on board is easily the most captivating in the history of arctic exploration. The Resolute, locked in the ice, was abandoned on May 15, 1854, sorely against the will of her captain by advice of the leader of the Belcher-Franklin expedition. The reappearance of the vessel on Sept. 17 caused a great sensation, and the United States brought the vessel with great ceremony to Cowes in order to present it to the queen of England.

The queen, the prince consort and others of the royal family then at Osborne House inspected the vessel, which had been carefully repaired and all the original furniture retained in position down to the smallest trinkets. The American skipper traced before her majesty the thousand mile course of the vessel and expressed his belief that Sir John Franklin was still alive, living among the Eskimos.

After many banquets the actual transfer of the vessel took place on Dec. 30, 1856, when the American flag was replaced by the British. And now comes the tragedy. The admiralty had no sooner come into the possession of the vessel than it proceeded to break it up on the good old principle of public economy!—London Chronicle.

A TRAP FOR MARINERS.

Salmadina Bank, Off Colombia's Coast, Is a Perilous Shoal.

One of the most dangerous places for navigation is the Salmadina bank, which lies just outside the harbor of Cartagena, Colombia. Many vessels have come to grief on the treacherous sands of Salmadina in the past, and because of the impossibility of keeping buoys on it the shoal is a constant menace to ships plying those waters.

This dangerous bank is about four miles long and two miles wide. There is scarcely more than twelve feet of water over it at any time. The sea is usually smooth in that part of the Caribbean, and unless there is ground swell enough to cause waves to break on the reef there is nothing to warn the navigator that he is approaching this shallow spot. He may have his lead going and get plenty of water one minute and be bang up on the shoal the next.

The lighthouse people will probably never be able to put buoys on Salmadina that will stay there. They are invariably carried away in the terrific hurricanes that periodically sweep these waters. So it seems as if Salmadina was a bad spot put there for the permanent worryment of shipmasters.—New York Sun.

FINAL PLANS ARE MADE FOR THE NEW AUTOMATIC

With a jingle of bells, flashing of signal lights, whirl of electric machinery and the testing out here and there of switches, the local branch of The Ohio State Telephone Company is preparing for the long expected discarding of the old plant and supplanting it with the very latest thing in telephone equipment, and this change will take place tonight between the hours of nine o'clock and ten-thirty.

A large number of telephone men from Columbus and other points of the state are flocking to this city to see, for the first time, a union of a city system and rural lines by automatic equipment, which has been tested out and found working perfectly.

Instructions have been issued to patrons of the company to cut the

small wires connecting the old and new instruments, before the patron retires for the night, and to use the new automatic Tuesday morning.

It is possible the new automatic will be working by 10:30 tonight, but patrons are not expected to try out the phones at that time unless they are making a regular call, as the workmen will be busy all night completing the final touches that will be required after the cut-over is made.

It is expected that two or three days will elapse before every phone is working perfectly, particularly should the subscriber fail to cut the small wires as instructed.

The cutting over to the new system is an important event in telephone circles, and will be watched with deep interest by the many telephone men who will be here to witness the event.

THE AUTOMATIC SWITCH.

The Automatic Switch, reduced to every day language, is the mechanical device supplanting the operator in the telephone office.

It is operated when the dial is turned. The functions of this switch are to connect the subscriber with the number dialed, and to ring the bell of the party wanted. It will keep other people from calling the same line while it is in use. In the case where a busy line is dialed a "Busy Buzz" tells that the line is busy. It will tell you by an intermittent "burring" sound that the bell of the party you want is being rung. When the receiver is hung up it will instantaneously disconnect the parties talking.

In fact the Automatic Switch does all the labor now performed by the operator and the patron becomes his own operator, controlling this device with the dial.

While there are hundreds of these little "mechanical operators" in the telephone office, they are practically all duplicates of each other. A system of periodical inspections and adjustments is made which keeps these switches in proper working condition.

will go into service tonight, November the 15th.

The work of installing the automatic central office equipment and telephones is completed and are being tested, and will be ready for service tonight.

This change to Automatic service marks a great change of the local plant of The Ohio State Telephone Company, as this is the latest improved equipment to be put into service.

Subscribers who have at their telephones, a small tag tied to the wires connecting the old and the new telephones together, will cut these wires as the instructions on the card direct, before retiring. In the event there is no tag on the wires, it will not be necessary to cut any, and your Automatic phone will be in service Tuesday morning. If this is not done your telephone will not be working until a workman comes to clear the line.

The business men will please cut the wires as the card directs, before closing your stores and offices and Automatic service will be awaiting you in the morning.

Rural, as well as city phones, will go into service at the same time.

Read carefully the directions, given in the directory, for operating the telephones.

Do not try to use your old phone on Tuesday morning, but use the Automatic only.

Automatic telephone service is the best on earth, and to secure the best Automatic service, read and follow the directions carefully.

In Social Circles

Seldom has a golden wedding anniversary been more delightfully celebrated than that of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Priest, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. O. L. Blackmore, of S. Fayette street, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Priest have enjoyed the unusual happiness of rounding out their fifty years of wedded life together in health and felicitous surroundings, and the anniversary occasion was the crowning event of the peaceful years.

There were about twenty who responded to invitations sent out. Owing to the inclemency of the weather their friends from their former home of Leesburg were unable to be present and their son, Ed Priest, and family of Springfield, detained by auto trouble, while on their way.

As the clock was striking the hour of one the guests assembled in the parlor, Mr. and Mrs. Priest taking their place before the altar to renew their marriage vows to each other for the remainder of their lives. Rev. John Near performed the ceremony, and in a few well chosen words reminded them that they were now in the evening of life and fast approaching the time when they must say good night to each other here, but thank God, only a few moments when they can say good morning in the Glory land.

After congratulations the bride and groom led the way to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was served.

The bride's table was decorated with a large centerpiece of white and gold chrysanthemums. Seated with the bride and groom were Rev. John Near and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Bosler Lemons, Mr. Merritt Sturgeon and daughter Miss Etha.

The gold and white color scheme was prettily carried out in refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Priest received a number of beautiful and useful presents.

ents, several gold pieces, hand embroidered work and gold banded china and a gold headed cane, presented by several old soldiers.

Among those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gleadall and son Harold of Leesburg, the guests including Rev. John Near and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Bosler Lemons, Mr. Merritt Sturgeon and daughter Miss Etha, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe, Miss Grace Miller, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Perce Pearce, and son Henry.

is all that is necessary. You can play any composition on it even if you have never taken a music lesson.

Simply insert a music roll, pump the pedals and move three little levers, and you produce music with the same expression that the skilled pianist obtains.

The INNER-PLAYER Pianos are different from all other instruments which have player mechanisms in their cases. They have patented features which you find only in the INNER-PLAYER device.

The Transposing Device enables you to change from one key to another and to raise or lower the key at will.

The Solo-Aid enables you to play the melody louder than the accompaniment, simply by the pressure of your little finger.

The Miniature Keyboard gives elasticity to the action and produces a natural touch.

The Pedal Lever Action makes pedaling easy and makes possible immediate response of the player action to the motion of the feet.

The Key-Lock prevents motion of the piano keys and makes better repetition possible.

The Wrist-rest and Lever Cover prevents fatigue of the wrists when playing.

The powerful Six-Unit Motor makes the movement of the music sheet positive and smooth.

The Fibre Bearings and Guides give durability and prevent rattling of the moving parts.

The Tinting Superstructure and Sectional Bellows give the tuner easy access to strings and pins.

You can buy an INNER-PLAYER Piano on easy terms. If you have a piano or an organ exchange it as part payment.

AUSTRIA ADMITS SHE SUNK LINER

Says Ancona Was Warned Before Attacked.

PLACES BLAME ON CREW

Commander of Ancona, the Vienna Official Report States, Was Given Forty-five Minutes to Abandon Ship. Members of Crew Only Attempted to Save Themselves, the Statement Claims.

Washington, Nov. 15.—With the issuance of a statement by the Austro-Hungarian embassy giving the official account of the destruction of the Italian liner Ancona, the case of the Ancona, which has been a puzzle to the state department ever since she was torpedoed in the Mediterranean last Tuesday, was presented in still a new light.

In this official report the Austro-Hungarian government assumes full responsibility for the sinking of the Ancona. This means that the reported statement by the Italian government that a German submarine sank the Ancona will have to be supported by proof before it will be accepted as a basis for action by this government.

While the Austro-Hungarian statement, if accepted as correct, disposes of the question as to whether the Ancona was warned before being attacked, it raises still another issue in which the United States government may prove to be vitally concerned. In case it is shown that any Americans were killed by the actual torpedoing of the Ancona—that is, that they lost their lives on the vessel when she went down rather than by being hit by shells, or after leaving the ship in lifeboats—it is believed the United States will protest on the ground that the vessel was torpedoed before all her passengers and crew had left her.

Whether Americans were actually lost in this manner has not been shown. In this aspect the case is similar to that of the Falaba, the first case in which an American was killed by German submarine operations.

The Austrian statement says that after fifty minutes the submarine submerged and torpedoed the Ancona because another steamer was coming up. Reports of survivors have indicated that this took place before all had left the ship. Precisely the same thing happened in the Falaba case, and resulted in one American losing his life.

The statement of the Austro-Hungarian embassy, which consisted of the text of a dispatch from the Austrian admiralty, was as follows:

"The submarine fired one shell before the steamer's bow upon which the steamer fled under full speed. According to orders of the Italian authorities steamers must flee or attempt to sink submarines. The submarine pursued the steamer and continued firing at the steamer which stopped only when hit several times. The submarine allowed forty-five minutes to abandon the steamer. Panic reigned, but only small boats were lowered, and they were occupied principally by the crew. A great number of boats, probably sufficient to save passengers, remained unoccupied. After fifty minutes, the submarine, in presence of approaching steamer, submerged and torpedoed Ancona, which sank after forty-five minutes. If passengers lost their lives it was through the crew's fault because the steamer tried to escape after receiving order to stop. Then the crew only attempted to save themselves and not the passengers. Foreign press reports that the submarine fired on the lifeboats are pernicious inventions."

SUFFS' PROGRAM

Washington, Nov. 15.—The program for the first convention of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage is complete. It will begin Monday, Dec. 6, the day that congress convenes, when the two envoys—Mrs. Sara Bard Field and Miss Frances Jolliffe—arrive from California and are received by the suffragists at the outskirts of the capital and escorted in. It will close with a grand pageant to Susan B. Anthony at Convention hall Monday evening, Dec. 13. The national executive committee of the Congressional union will meet Dec. 14 to formulate plans for the future.

IN DANGER ZONE

Washington, Nov. 15.—Fears are felt here for the safety of Mme. Slavko Grouitch, formerly Miss Mabel Dunlop of Clarksburg, W. Va., wife of the Serbian permanent under secretary of foreign affairs, who returned to Nish last summer after a speaking tour of this country. Mme. Grouitch was a close friend of Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. John A. Logan, making her debut under their auspices at the home of the latter.

MORRIS PLEADS WITH WILLIS TO PAY FAIR BILLS

Columbus, Nov. 15.—In an open letter to Governor Willis, Charles E. Morris, manager of the press bureau of the Democratic state executive committee, calls upon the governor, as president of the state emergency board, to see that enough money is appropriated to pay creditors of the board of agriculture in connection with the state fair. He holds many of these claims to be illegal, but service having been rendered in good faith, he insists the credit and honor of the state should be maintained by paying the bills. He says many creditors have turned over their accounts to him for collection. Many of the claimants whom Morris represents, he intimates, are newspapers which carried advertising material for the fair.

PEACE POSTPONED

Lucerne, Switzerland, Nov. 15.—The international congress called to study fundamental bases for peace and which was expected to open at Berne Dec. 14 has been postponed until after the new year. The reasons given for the postponement of the opening are that circumstances are not yet favorable and that preparations for holding the congress have been delayed.

FOREMOST NEGRO TEACHER IS DEAD

Booker Washington, Noted Educator, Dead.

Suffered Nervous Breakdown in New York Last Week and Died Soon After Reaching Tuskegee, the Scene of His Labors—Founded One of the Foremost Negro Colleges in the World—Sketch of His Career.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 15.—Booker T. Washington, foremost teacher and leader of the negro race, died early Sunday at his home near the Tuskegee institute, of which he was founder and president. Hardening of the arteries, following a nervous breakdown, caused death a few hours after Dr. Washington arrived from New York.

Booker Washington was known as the greatest educator the negro race has ever produced. He was an orator of real distinction and was highly honored by white men of eminence. He constantly preached common sense to his race.

It was through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie that Washington was left free to devote his life to the cause of educating negroes. Mr. Carnegie gave $600,000 to the Tuskegee Farm Land Industrial Institute at Tuskegee, Ala., the school made famous throughout the world because of Mr. Washington's connection with it and devotion to it.

Mr. Washington was born a slave in Virginia in 1858 or 1859. As a lad he never really knew what play meant. As soon as he was able to toddle he was put to work. His chief task was taking corn to and from the mill, where it was ground. He worked his way through the primary grades and later graduated from Wayland seminary in Washington.

When Mr. Washington was placed at the head of the new negro institute at Tuskegee, Ala., he found there had been no land or buildings provided.

But Mr. Washington went to work with immense pride, energy and optimism. He began to teach in a small shanty. From that time on the growth of the institution was phenomenal. Persons all over the land became interested in Tuskegee and the man who was making it famous. Gifts flowed in. Extensions became possible. Now Tuskegee possesses property worth $2,000,000 or more, uses fifty buildings, which are upon 3,000 acres of land. Annually from 1,500 to 2,000 young negro men and women are taught how to make their lives count for the most for themselves, for their race and their country.

Mr. Washington was in great demand as a public speaker. He was called into consultation by President McKinley in regard to matters affecting the negro. President Roosevelt admired him highly and frequently consulted him. President Taft recognized his keenness of judgment and his sincerity of purpose. Harvard university gave him a degree in 1896 and other colleges conferred degrees upon him subsequently. In 1893 he married Maggie Y. Murray, who became closely identified with the work at Tuskegee.

PETER DELACY DEAD

New York, Nov. 15.—Peter Delacy, seventyone, foremost for many years among the pool room gambling fraternity of this city and, paradoxically, a leading figure in later days in the fights that practically wiped out horse racing in New York and New Jersey, died of pneumonia, which developed after an operation.

POLICE BATTLE BOOZE DEALERS

Chicago, Nov. 15.—After an exchange of fifty shots the police invaded and captured Captain George Wellington Streeter's "District of Lake Michigan," a plot of filled-in land on the shore of Lake Michigan, where, until Sunday, Streeter had successfully defied the officers who sought to arrest him on a charge of violating the Sunday closing order. Mrs. John Hoist, wife of one of Streeter's tenants, was slightly wounded. Streeter, his wife and fifteen others were placed under arrest and 192 cases of beer, six rifles, four revolvers and a quantity of ammunition were confiscated.

AMERICAN HOSPITAL OPENS IN PETROGRAD

Petrograd, Nov. 15.—The American hospital was formally opened with enlarged quarters in the presence of Baron Rozen, former Russian ambassador to the United States, and Count Nostitz, City Councilman Sangalli, patron of the institution, and George T. Marye, the American ambassador who is president of the hospital, delivered addresses. Russian friends presented the hospital with a portrait of Grand Duke Alexis, the heir apparent. Two soldiers responded to the addresses in English and thanked the Americans for their gift to the hospital.

LOADED RUSSIAN VESSEL DEPARTS

New York, Nov. 15.—The Russian-American liner Czaritzza sailed for Archangel with a big cargo of war material and 130 passengers, mostly stevedores. She was delayed several hours while detectives examined the clothing and baggage of every voyager, taking all weapons, knives and razors from everybody who had any and storing them away for return to the owners at the end of the trip. All the vodka carried by Russian passengers was confiscated.

WENT TO THE HOSPITAL.

CHINESE VOTE FOR MONARCHY

Washington, Nov. 15.—In each of the twenty-three Chinese provinces conventions are assembling to record
the decision of the Chinese people upon the two questions upon which they voted at the polls last week, the acceptance of the revised constitution prepared by the drafting committee of the council of state and the substitution of a monarchical form of government for the republic. Reports reaching Washington indicate that an overwhelming majority of the limited electorate has recorded itself as in favor of both the constitution and the monarchy. Interest now centers, therefore, upon the next step which will be taken by President Yuan Shi Kai.

SALONIKI IS HELD TO BE OPEN PORT

Grecian King Replies to Pro- test of Teuton Allies.

SERBIAN ARMY RETREATING

Falling Back From Mountain Range to Mountain Range Before the Advancing Austro-German Forces—Allied Troops Holding Bulgarians in the South—Activity Reported Along the Entire Eastern Front.

London, Nov. 15.—Temporarily at least the political situation is held graver than that of the military. The central powers have again protested to Greece against the landing of allied troops at Salonica. King Constantine is reported to have replied that as Salonica is an open port there has been no infringement of Greek rights in the landing and that Greece will remain neutral until one of the belligerents has transgressed against those rights. France and Italy, who have now joined her allies by sending a warship to Salonica, are particularly anxious as to the attitude of Greece.

Berlin reports that the Serbians are falling back from mountain range to mountain range before the advance of the Austro-German forces. The reports enumerate the capture of 1,000 or more prisoners daily, a few guns and quantities of stores. The Serbians are fighting continuously, however, and are inflicting considerable losses on their pursuers.

Along the eastern front the Serbians appear to be holding their own against the Bulgarians and are making a stand on the western bank of the Morava river. So stubborn has been their resistance the Bulgarians have had to call for assistance from the Austro-German artillery in their effort to drive the defenders out of Katchanik Pass.

The British and French troops,
which are receiving reinforcements,
are meeting with some success, and,

besides repulsing the Bulgarian attacks, have undertaken small offensive movements. The Austro-Germans and Bulgarians, however, made such progress from the beginning of the campaign that it will take serious work now to check them.

The Russians have definitely repelled Field Marshal Von Hinden-burg's drive toward Riga and Dvinsk and along the Dvina river and have themselves taken the offensive, but apparently, owing to the state of the ground, have been able to make only slow progress in the marshy region west of Riga. Along the Styria river, in the south, the Austro-Germans, by a counter stroke, have pierced the Russian lines and captured 1,500 prisoners, according to the Berlin official statement. These strokes are about all that can be expected on the eastern front while the soft weather continues.

General Von Linsingen's army, hard pressed by the Russians for many weeks past, have turned attackers and have broken through the positions of the czar's forces near the much contested town of Czartorysk, in the immediate vicinity of Podgalie, taking 1,515 prisoners and four machine guns.

On the western front there have been no events of importance.

BOMBS DROPPED FROM THE SKIES KILL AND CRIPPLE

Rome, Nov. 15.—Thirty persons are dead in Verona as a result of three Austrian aeroplanes dropping bombs on the city. Thirty other persons were seriously and nineteen slightly injured. The bombs of the air craft found most of their victims in the principal square of the city, where citizens and peasants from the outlying districts were attending the market.
Nineteen persons were killed by one bomb. The aeroplanes visited various parts of the city, but none of the missiles dropped by them fell near any of the military buildings.

tumultuous political movement with in that state which resulted in the genesis of the "Wisconsin Idea."

The venerable ex-senator says he spent more than $500,000 on LaFollette and his political lieutenants, and that he has contributed probably $1,000,000 to the Republican party.
He describes LaFollette as "weeping with joy" when his (Stephenson's) agent handed him the first $2,500.

Senator Stephenson states that La-Follette turned against him finally, trying to have him removed from the senate seat after he refused to pay up $250,000 to back LaFollette's candidacy for the presidential nomination. Mr. Stephenson does not seek to connect the two events or to draw any deductions from them.

The campaigns of the Progressive-Republicans of Wisconsin, long supposed to have derived their force entirely from the spontaneous uprising of the people against the bosses, did not differ greatly from other campaigns, according to Mr. Stephenson.
While Senator LaFollette was working zealously on the firing line Isaac Stephenson, in the background, was keeping the bases intact, and by frequent drafts upon his checkbook providing the weapons with which he old order in the Republican party was overthrown and the new established.

POPE LEAVES VATICAN?

Rome, Nov. 15.—Pope Benedict has made an important departure from the custom of the pontiffs by visiting the Church of Saint Anna, adjoining the apostolic palace, and thus going outside the vatican precincts, according to the newspaper Giornale d'Italia.
Since the fall of temporal power, one form of papal protest against the new order of things has been the seclusion of the pontiffs in the vatican.

GIVES PRAISE TO CARRANZA

New York, Nov. 15.—General Carranza is fast restoring order throughout Mexico and is confident that he will soon conquer Villa and Zapata, according to Eliseo Arrendondo, confidential agent of the Constitutional government in this country, who arrived here from a visit to the first chief, whom he accompanied on a tour of the northern part of Mexico. After a brief stay here, Mr. Arrendondo plans to return to Washington to resume his duties.

"General Carranza will reach Mexico City at the end of this month and then begin to organize his cabinet and make the necessary government appointments," said Mr. Arrendondo.
The Carranza agent added that the first chief expects to announce soon the appointment of his ambassador to Washington. "General Carranza is confident," Mr. Arrendondo continued, "that he has the military situation well in hand."

PLAIN TALK TO GERMANS

London, Nov. 15.—"Every German man must be taught to feel that he has failed to perform a pious and patriotic duty if he is not a father, and every woman must be made to understand that she has failed in her obligations to Germany if she does not become a wife and mother." A committee of scientists and sociologists, detached from the immediate war service to study the problem of increasing Germany's population, have submitted to the government a memorandum, of which the above is the keynote.

ANCONA DEAD NUMBER 208

Rome, Nov. 15.—It is announced by the Italian emigration office that 208 persons, including nine American citizens, perished in the torpedoing of the Italian steamer Ancona last week off the coast of Tunis. Indignation aroused in Italy at this large death list, together with a growing certanty that the submarine which sank the Ancona was a German craft, has precipitated a crisis which is expected to bring about a declaration of war against the German government.

Italian officials have now carefully gone over the lists of living and dead in the Ancona disaster and announce that of the 507 persons on board the steamship when she was attacked, only 299 were rescued. Of the latter one was an American. Nine Americans lost their lives.

END OF TWENTY YEAR ROMANCE

Findlay, O., Nov. 15.—A romance of twenty years was ended tragically at Benton Ridge, eight miles west of Findlay, when Miss Ada Warner, forty-two, shot and probably fatally wounded Norris H. Powell, forty-five, her sweetheart, and, returning to her own home, cut her throat with a razor and is in a critical condition. Physicians declare she persists in breaking open the wound, saying she wants to die. Powell's refusal to marry her after so long a courtship is said to be her reason for the act.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards'
Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' pure Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.
No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally.
They never force them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.
Thousands take one or two every night
just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c

COLONIAL.

"Carmen," time honored favorite of the legitimate stage patrons for years and years, comes to the Colonial Friday. But it is a different Carmen; not in the sense that the plot or thread of the beautiful old story has been tampered with, but in that it has found a field in photography for much greater expansion and expression than it could ever have hoped for on the stage. William Fox recognized the possibility. His appreciation of it is indicated in his choosing of Theda Bara for the title role.

Tuesday, Metro presents Emmet Carrigan, in a strong five reel feature, "Greater Love Hath No Man." Wednesday, George Kline presents a Griffith-directed all star Biograph program, whose cast will include Mary Pickford, Blanche Sweet, Lillian Gish and others.

"Home Sweet Home," another Griffith star production, is booked for Thursday.

PALACE.

The headliner at The Palace this week is "The White Sister," a V. L. S. E. production in 6 acts featuring Viola Allen, who starred in the play of the same name on the legitimate stage for a long time. Special music by Horstman and Kneisley. Miss Allen is supported by Richard C. Travers, prominent Essanay star.

WONDERLAND.

Two Paramount pictures, both right up to the usual snuff, will be the two most prominent features in a week of good attractions. These will be "The Woman," on Wednesday, and Thursday, "The Blood of the Forefathers," unusually strong topics, well presented, each picture having five parts.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT

Local H. S. Glee Clubs Will Present
The Wreck of the Hesperus.

The High school Glee Clubs, made up of 39 girls and 25 boys selected voices from the H. S. will give a concert Wednesday evening, November 24, in the High school auditorium.

For the third part of the concert the clubs will sing the cantata, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," a beautiful musical setting by Thos. Anderton to Longfellow's poem. The solo parts are taken by Olive Hillery, mezzo soprano, Robert Craig, tenor, Robert McFadden, baritone. Other entertaining features are being worked out and it is hoped to give the best concert the local glee clubs have ever presented.

Tickets will be on sale Saturday morning at Tuttle's Book Store. Admission 25c.
